Ice-cream Man

Read and Enjoy

What is cold, sweet and creamy, and wonderful to eat? Everyone's favourite treat especially on a hot summer day is an ice cream! And everyone's favourite person might just be the Ice-cream Man!

When summer's in the city,
And brick's a blaze of heat,
The Ice-cream Man with his little cart
Goes trundling down the street.

Beneath his round umbrella,
Oh, what a joyful sight,
To see him fill the cones with mounds
Of cooling brown and white:

Vanilla, chocolate, strawberry,
Or chilly things to drink
From bottles full of frosty-fizz,
Green, orange, white, or pink.

His cart might be a flower bed,
Of roses and sweet peas,
The way the children cluster round
As thick as honeybees.

Wonderful Waste!

Waste can be quite useful !
Find out for yourself from this story...

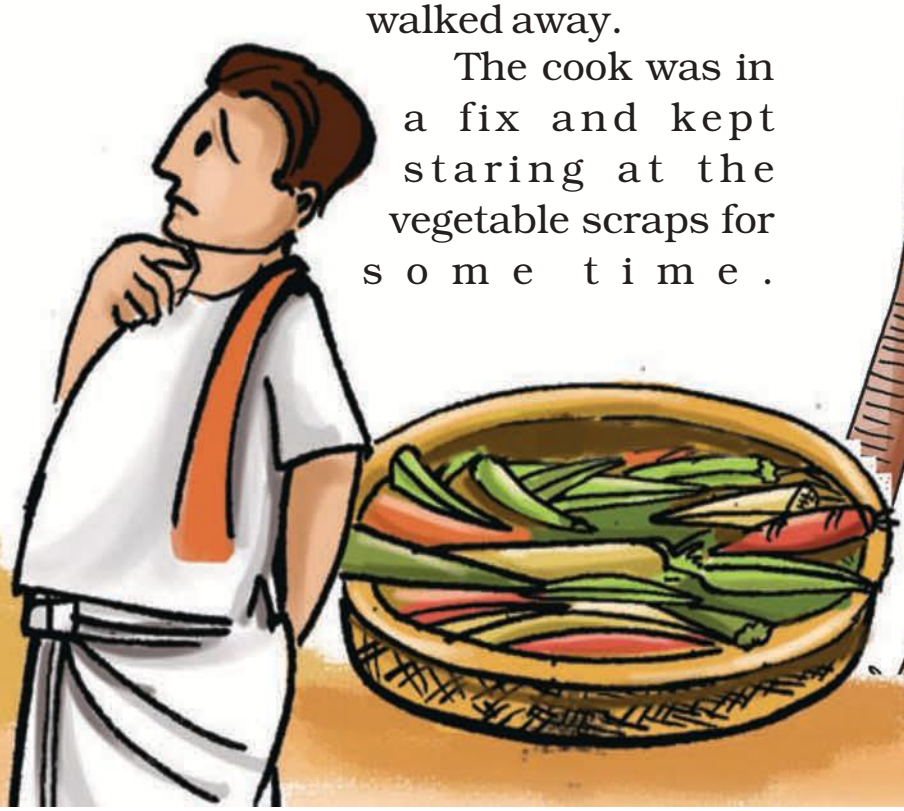

Once, the Maharaja of Travancore ordered a grand dinner in his palace. In the afternoon before the dinner, the Maharaja entered the kitchen to survey the dishes that had been prepared for the feast.

"What are you going to do with those vegetable scraps?" he asked the cook, pointing to the basket of scraps near the cook. The cook replied, "They are waste. We will throw them away."

"You cannot waste all these bits and pieces of vegetables. Find a way to use them," the Maharaja commanded sternly and walked away.

The cook was in a fix and kept staring at the vegetable scraps for some time.

Suddenly, an idea flashed across his mind.

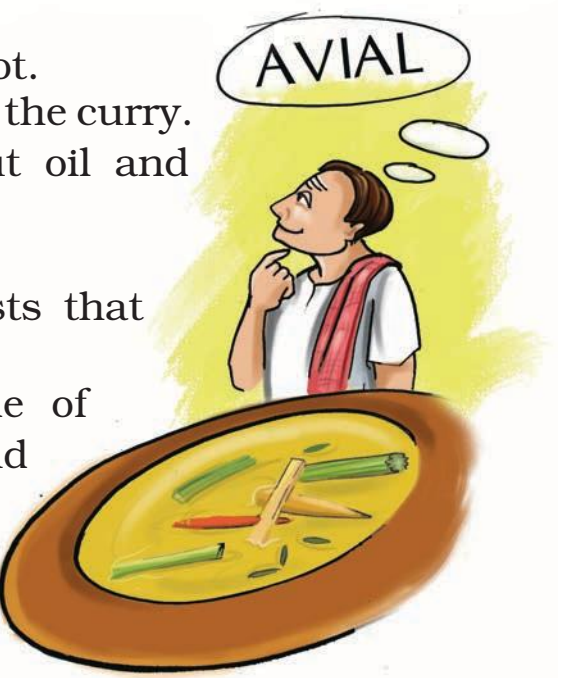

He took all the vegetable bits, washed them and cleaned them well.

Then he cut them into long strips. He put them in a huge pot and placed it on the fire to cook. Next, he ground some fresh coconut, green chillies and garlic together. He added this paste and some salt to the cooking vegetables.

A tempting smell started coming from the pot.

Now he whipped some curd and added it to the curry. He also poured a few spoonfuls of coconut oil and decorated the dish with curry leaves.

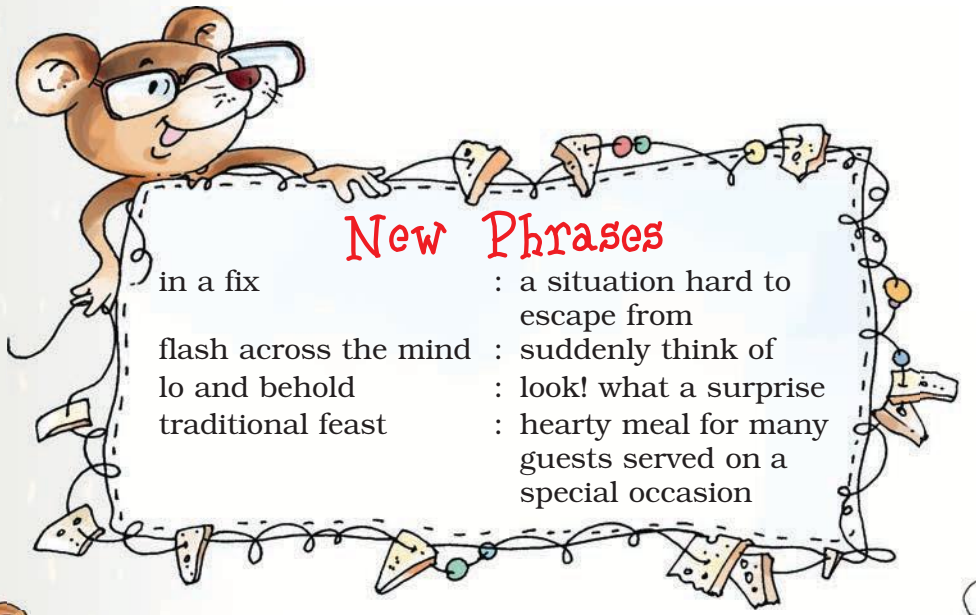

Lo and behold! The new dish was ready. The cook served this new dish to the guests that evening.

Everyone was eager to know the name of the new dish. The cook thought and thought. Then a name came to his mind. He named it avial (uh-vi-ul).

UNIT 1

Poem: Ice-cream Man
Story: Wonderful Waste!

THEMES

Recycling waste
Folktales
Multi-cultural approach to food
To avoid wastage of food

READING TIME

In every country of the world, there are stories which have been handed down from grandparents to grandchildren or which have been sung by mothers to their babies. These stories are called folktales and tell us about the customs and culture of the place they are set in.

A Kerala folktale has been retold in this unit. The teacher should encourage children to read folktales from different parts of the country. The mother tongue can be given its due place by being used for discussion and understanding, along with teaching of English.

The Poem and Say Aloud activities should be done through imitation — the teacher first and then the children. Poems could be recited in groups. They may also be presented through dramatisation, actions etc. in the school assembly. The children can make big cutouts of ice creams and vegetables or dress up as particular vegetables or ice-cream and recite the poem. You could think of a suitable rhythm for the poem.

CONVERSATION TIME

The Let's Talk section can begin with a discussion started by the teacher, in this case on environment and recycling of waste. This can be done with the help of a practical example of children making paper bags from old newspaper. These bags could be given to the neighbourhood provision store to be used instead of plastic bags. Remember, paper bags are environment friendly. Old newspapers can also be used to make envelopes of different sizes and masks for school plays.

WRITING TIME

When we use several sentences to tell others about something that we have seen, read, heard or done, it is called a report. For Report Writing the teacher, along with the children, should first go through the report on Uncle Lal's farm. The children can then do the guided report on ice creams available in their area or on food, toyshops, soaps, some animal, care of pets etc.

PROJECT WORK

A creative activity should be followed by a presentation before the entire class. The poems, recipes, the findings of any task etc. could be done as group activities and presented or displayed in the classroom. This sharing is as important an experience as any individual activity.

Teamwork

Do you like to work and play with others?

Let's sing and dance

Teamwork, teamwork,
Together we can make our dream work.
Then we'll share the joy of what we've done,
Teamwork, everyone!

It's fun to shoot the basketball through the hoop,
But if nobody passes then nobody shoots.
And the relay race just can't go on,
If nobody wants to pass the baton.

We're the parts that make up the whole,
And we've got our eyes on a common goal.
Sometimes it can be a big plus,
When a you or a me becomes an us!

Flying Together

What are some of the things your parents and teachers tell you to do on time? ...Get up in the morning... do the homework.... pack your school bag...

What happened when you didn't do as they asked you to do?

Deep in a forest stood a very tall tree. Its leafy branches spread out like strong arms.

This tree was the home of a flock of wild geese. They felt safe there. One of the geese was a wise old bird.

He noticed a small creeper at the foot of the tree. He spoke to the other birds about it.

"Do you see that creeper?" he said to them. "Let us destroy it". "Why must we destroy it?" asked the geese in surprise. "It is so small. What harm can it do?" "My friends," replied the wise old bird, "that little creeper will soon grow. As it creeps up this tree, it will become thick and strong."

"What of that?" asked the geese. "What harm can a creeper do us?"

"Don't you see?" replied the wise bird, "with the help of that creeper, it will be possible for someone to climb this tree. A hunter can come up and kill us all."

Trees and plants are to be conserved. Discuss in class and find out which plants, creepers or trees may be harmful for the existence of others.

"Well there's no hurry," they replied, "the creeper is very small. It would be a pity to destroy it now."

"Destroy the creeper while it is still young," the old bird advised. "Now it is tender and you can cut it easily. Later it will become hard and you will not be able to cut it."

"We'll see, we'll see," answered the birds. But they did not destroy the creeper. . They forgot the wise old bird's advice. As the creeper grew, it began winding its way up the tree.

Stronger and stronger it became, until it was as strong as a thick rope.

One morning when the geese had gone out in search of food, a hunter came to the forest.

"So this is where the wild geese live," he said to himself. "When they come back in the evening, I shall catch them."

The hunter climbed up the tree with the help of the creeper. He got to the top and spread his net there. Then he climbed down and went away.

Marigold

In the evening, the geese returned home. They did not notice the net. As they flew into the tree, they were trapped. They struggled hard to get out, but could not.

"Help! Help!" cried the geese. "We are caught in the hunter's net. Oh! What shall we do?"

"Don't make a fuss now," said the wise old bird. "Long ago I told you to destroy the creeper, but you did not. Now see what has happened. Tomorrow morning the hunter will come back and kill us all."

"We were foolish," wept the birds. "We are very sorry we did not listen to you. Please tell us what to do?"

"Then listen carefully," replied the wise bird. "When the hunter comes you must all pretend to be dead. Just lie still. The hunter will not want dead birds. He will throw us to the ground. It will then be easy for him to climb down, collect the dead birds, and take them home. When the last of us has been thrown down, we must quickly get up and fly away."

In the morning the hunter came to the tree and climbed up. He looked at the geese in the net.

"They are all dead," he muttered to himself. He threw them out of the net one by one. The birds lay still until the last one had been thrown down. Then, all at once, they got up, flapped their wings, and flew away.

The hunter was taken by surprise. From the top of the tree he watched all the geese fly away.

Listen to the following paragraph.

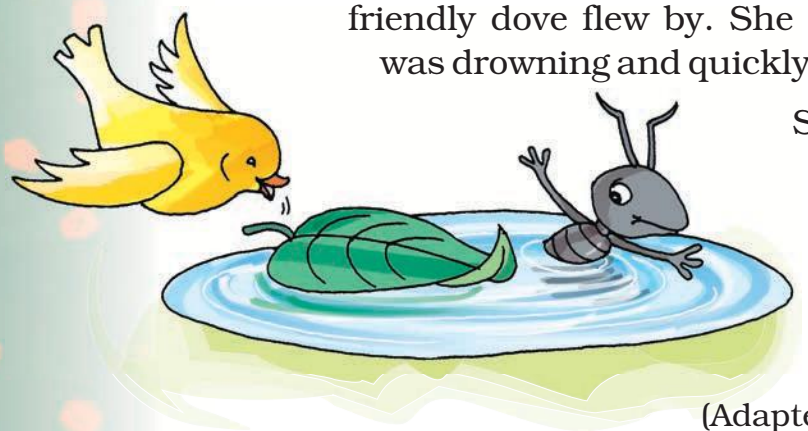

The Ant and the Dove

On his way home, an ant saw a sparkling fountain. He crawled on to its wall to take a closer look.

Suddenly he slipped and fell into the water. He gurgled and panicked and waved his legs in the air. "Help! I can't swim," he cried.

Luckily, just at that moment, a friendly dove flew by. She saw that the tiny ant was drowning and quickly flew to a nearby tree.

She pulled off a leaf and let it glide down to the ant. "Here you are," she cooed, and flew away.

UNIT 2

Poem: Teamwork
Story: Flying together

THEMES

Collaboration
Teamwork
Doing work on time

READING TIME

Help children experience the joy which comes from listening to good poetry. Let the class express how they feel about music. They can dance, tap their fingers, laugh, or sing poems. Explain to the class that listening to poetry is like listening to music. Poetry helps children sing inside themselves.

The stories of Panchatantra, originally written in Sanskrit, are very old. Panchatantra depicts nitishastra (wise conduct of life) through the medium of stories. The stories are mainly of animals, which children love to read. To enhance their reading habits the children must be encouraged to read more Panchatantra tales on their own. They can listen to stories from their grand parents and be asked to read some stories aloud to their friends. For purposes of language learning, listening needs to be encouraged with the help of music which includes folk, classical or popular compositions.

CONVERSATION TIME

The questions in the Let's Talk exercise aim to develop the language and thinking skills of the child. Real life situations familiar to the child have been given so that he/she is able to identify with them. Every child should be given an opportunity to freely express himself/herself.

WRITING TIME

The child will make a list of activities he/she likes to do alone and in a group. They can share with the class which activities they enjoy more.

Working in pairs, the children will write five ways in which they think birds and animals are like human beings. E.g. Humans look after their young ones and so do animals and birds.

The picture writing exercise should be done after a discussion about the various people involved in building a house and also the different steps involved in building a house.

PROJECT WORK

Undertake a tree conservation drive to look after the plants in the school by watering them and weeding the area around them.

The students can also take up a campaign for keeping the school compound clean by collecting litter and throwing it into dustbins.

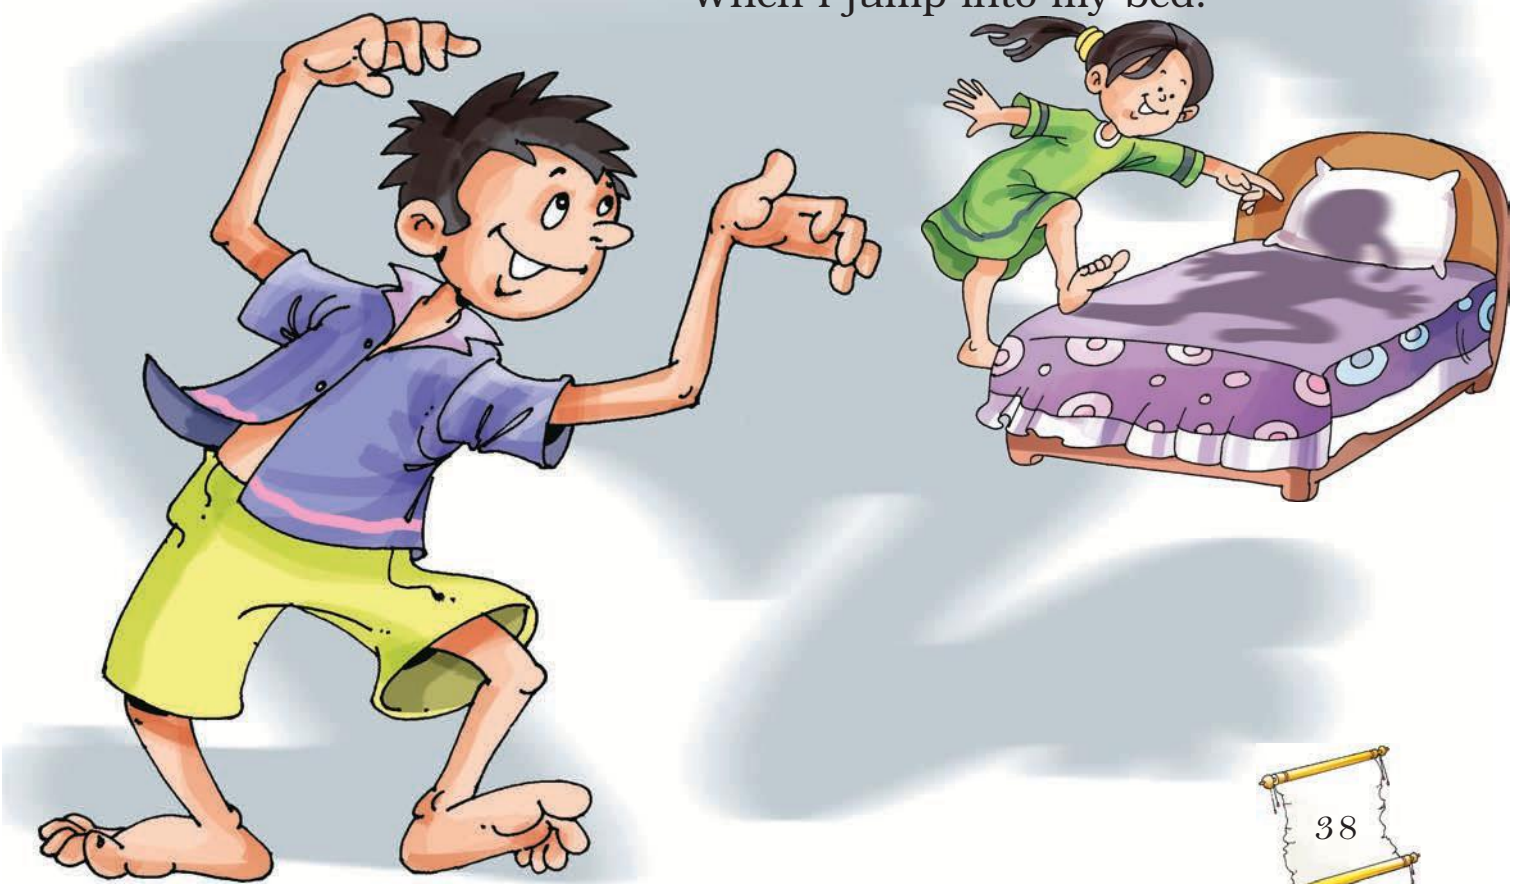

Unit 3

My Shadow

Do you know whenever there is light someone follows you? Have you ever wondered who it is?

Read and Enjoy

I have a little shadow that goes in and out with me.
And what can be the use of him is more than I can see.
He is very, very like me from the heels up to the head;
And I see him jump before me,
When I jump into my bed.

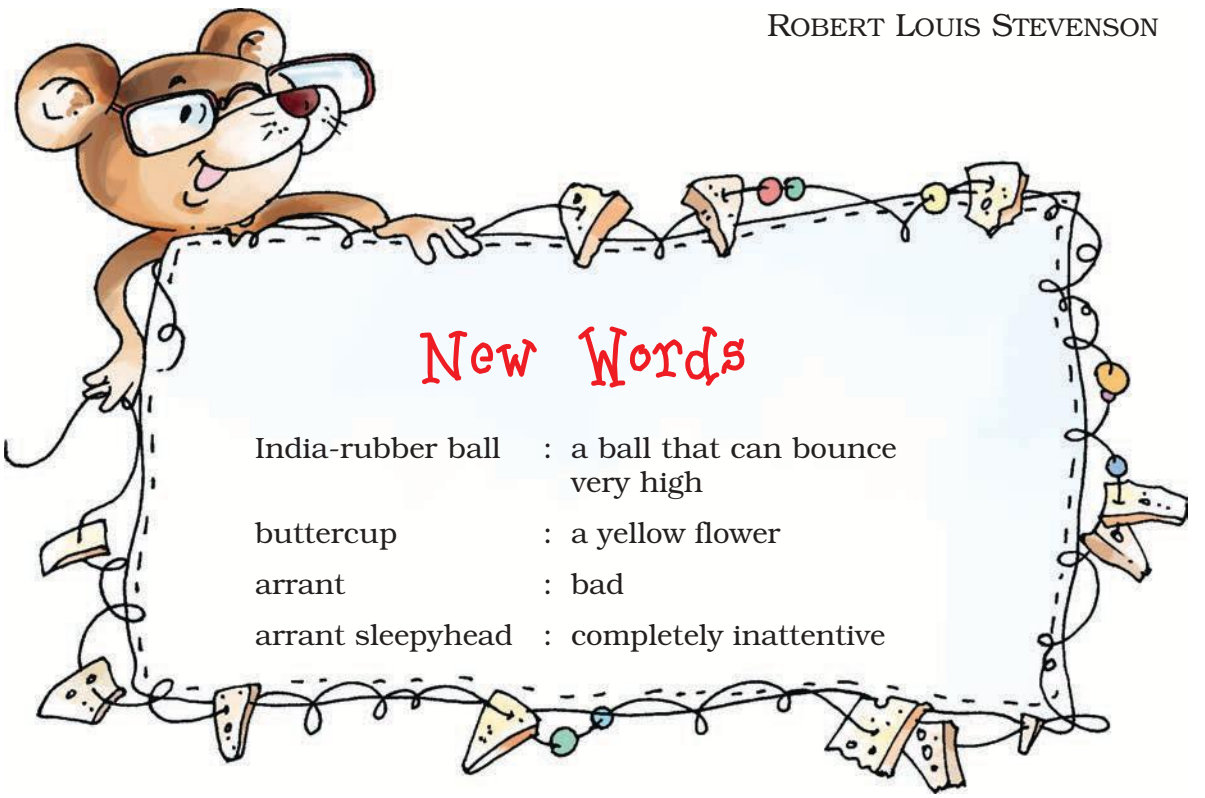

The funniest thing about him is the way
he likes to grow
Not at all like proper children, which is always very slow;
For he sometimes shoots up taller like an
India-rubber ball,
And he sometimes gets so little that
There's none of him at all.

One morning, very early, before the sun was up,
I rose and found the shining dew
on every buttercup;
But my lazy little shadow, like an arrant sleepyhead.
Had stayed at home behind me and was
Fast asleep in bed.

Robinson Crusoe
Discovers a Footprint

Robinson Crusoe's ship had been destroyed by the sea. He had been alone for many years and longed for company. One day he discovers a footprint on the sand. Let's find out what he did then.

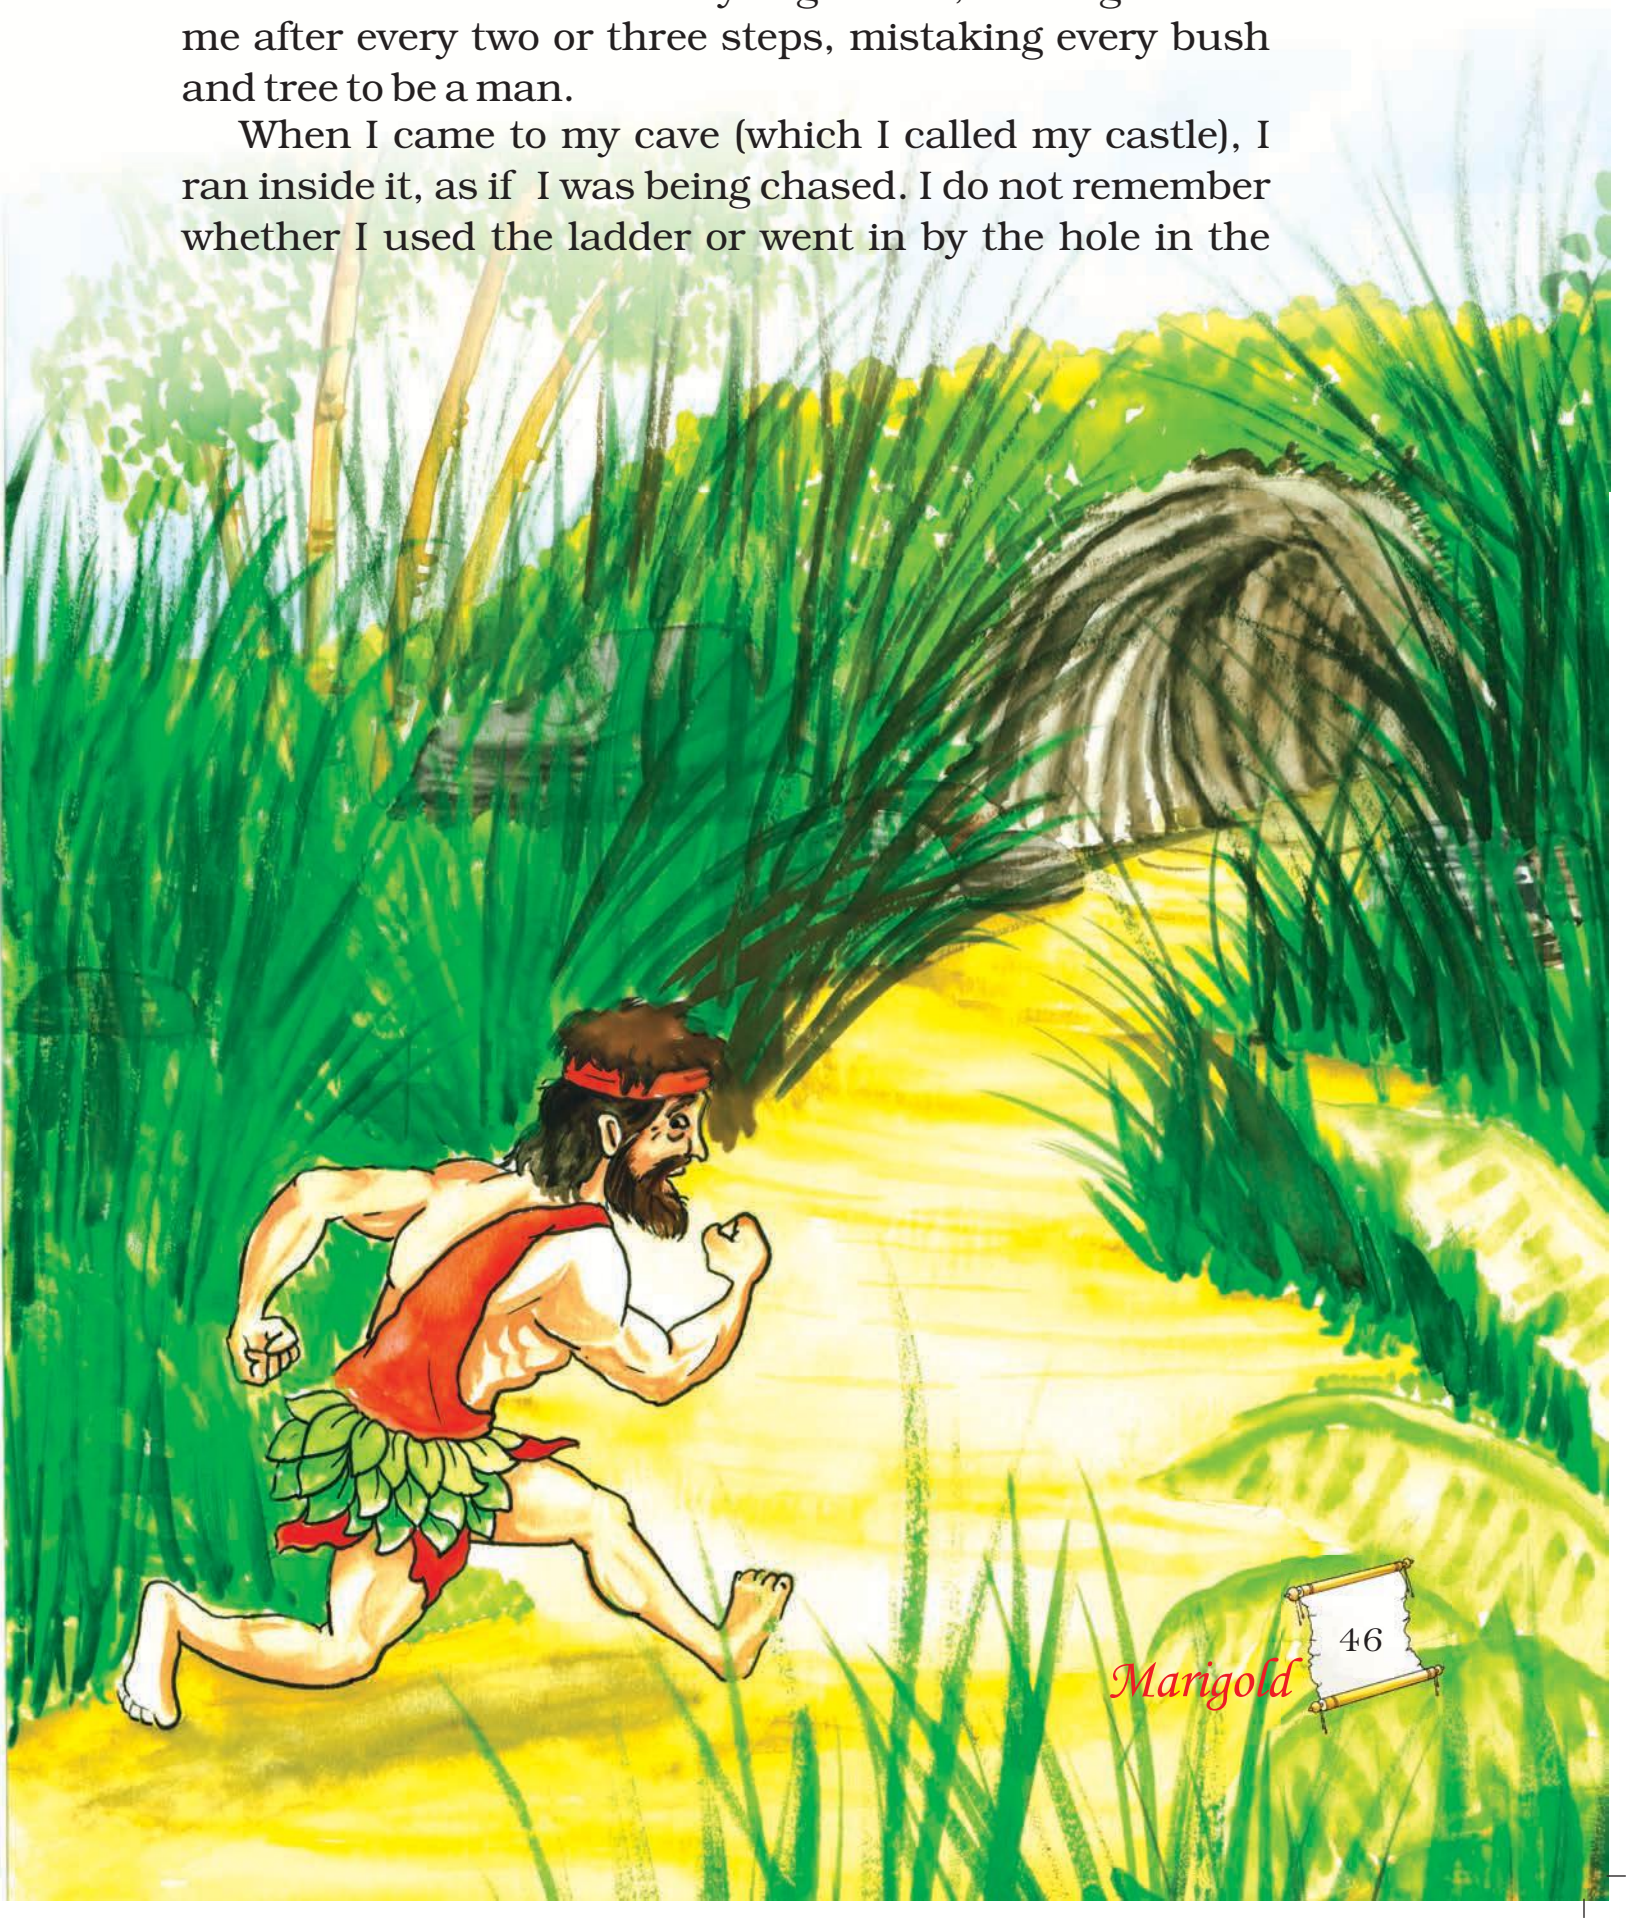

One day, when I was going towards my boat, I was surprised to see the footprint of a man on the sand. I stood amazed! I listened; I looked around me; I could neither hear nor see anything. I went up higher to look down; I went up the shore and down the shore, but it was no good; I could find no other footprint but that one. I went to it again to see if there were any more footprints and to tell if it had been my imagination. But I was not mistaken, for there was exactly the print of a foot — toes, heel, every part of a foot. I could not imagine how it came there.

I stayed a long time thinking, but became more and more confused.

At last I returned home very frightened, looking behind me after every two or three steps, mistaking every bush and tree to be a man.

When I came to my cave (which I called my castle), I ran inside it, as if I was being chased. I do not remember whether I used the ladder or went in by the hole in the rock, which I called the door. I ran for cover, faster than any animal could run.

I did not sleep that night. The more I thought about what I had seen, the more afraid I became. I thought it could be one of the savages of the mainland who had wandered out to the sea, in a small boat.

Luckily I was not on shore at that time, but what if he had seen my boat! If he had seen the boat he would have realised that someone lived on the island and would soon return with others to kill and eat me.

And so I lay fearful for many days and prayed for protection. In doing so, I was much comforted and began going out to investigate. But even now as I went forward, I looked behind me frequently, because I was still very frightened.

However, as I went about for two or three days and saw nothing I became a little bolder. I decided to go down to the shore again and examine the footprint once more. I decided to measure it with my own footmark.

As I came closer to the footprint, I realised that it could not be my footprint because I had not come to this part of the beach since a long time. Secondly, as I placed my foot alongside that footprint, it seemed larger than my own.

My fear returned! I went home again, believing that there was someone there.

The island was inhabited!

UNIT 3

Poem: My Shadow
Story: Robinson Crusoe Discovers a Footprint

THEMES

Investigating the unknown
Suspense and sense of curiosity
Overcoming fears by scientific analysis

READING TIME

A classroom library reading programme would provide for reading tastes, interests and abilities of all children. The teacher should ask the children to read the original story, Robinson Crusoe by Daniel Defoe. They could also read other books on adventure, stories of family life, humour, mystery, animals stories and stories of people, and talk about what they have read. The exceptional qualities one finds in adventurers can be discussed in class.

CONVERSATION TIME

Take the children outdoors to see the shadows of trees and the school building. Help them understand the absence of shadows on a cloudy day. The teacher should explain the shortening and lengthening of shadows through the day.

Since this unit is about our fears, the children could be asked to express some of their fears, also their unreasonable fears. They can discuss how best to deal with these fears.

WRITING TIME

The two creative writing exercises have leading questions to guide the children. These exercises will stimulate their imagination.

PROJECT WORK

Find out how ships and planes are guided towards land? The children should consult the encyclopedia and share their answers with the class. To cultivate a taste for reading, one period a week can be devoted to using the library. Books appropriate to the age group can be chosen for individual reading. Children can be asked to write about the book they have read during the language class or share a story with their classmates.

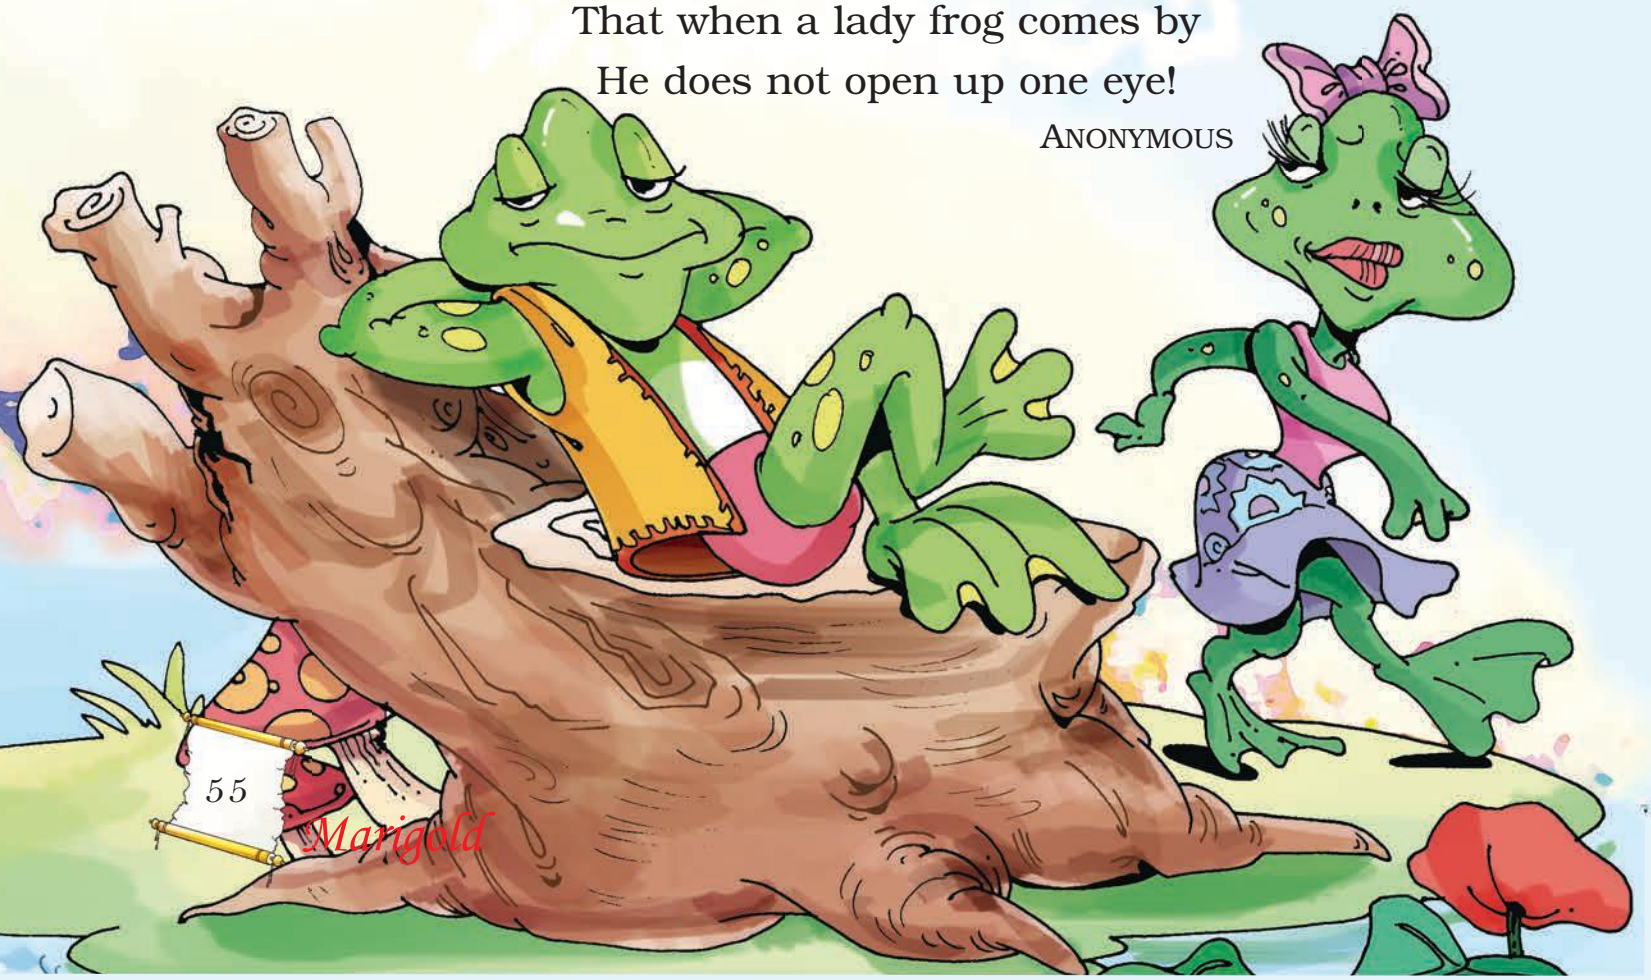

The Lazy Frog

On a school day, you are busy studying, playing and chatting with friends. When you have a holiday from school what do you do? Would you behave a little like the frog in the following poem?

Fred is a very lazy frog
Who lolls all day upon a log.
He always manages to shirk
Doing a single stroke of work.
His poor old mother calls in vain
"Come in and help!" he does not bother
To move two inches, much preferring
To be extremely hard-of-hearing.
He lies there in a silent heap,
And stays conveniently asleep.

If a lady frog hops past
You'd think he would get up at last
To bow, and help her on her way?
But no, I am ashamed to say
That when a lady frog comes by
He does not open up one eye!

Rip Van Winkle

This story is about Rip Van Winkle, a good-natured but lazy man, who goes away into the hills and falls asleep. When he awakens twenty years later, Rip finds that quite a few things have changed!

Many years ago, at the foothills of the Kaatskill (Kat-skill) mountains, was a little village. In the village lived a simple, good-natured fellow named Rip Van Winkle. He was a kind neighbour, ready to help anyone. Everyone in the village liked him. The children of the village shouted with joy whenever they saw him because he played with them, he taught them to fly kites and shoot marbles, and told them long stories.

The only problem with Rip was that he was very lazy. He did no work on his own farm and just idled away his time. His fences were falling to pieces. His cow was going astray. Weeds grew on his farm. Rip's constant companion was his dog, named Wolf. To avoid work, he would walk away into the forest with his dog.

One day, Rip just walked on and on and reached the highest part of the mountains. It was late in the afternoon when he reached there. Tired after his long climb, he lay down and began daydreaming. It was soon evening and he realised it would be night by the time he reached his village.

Suddenly, he heard a voice calling out, "Rip Van Winkle, Rip Van Winkle!" He looked around and saw a short, old man, with thick hair and a grizzled beard walking towards him with a barrel. He made signs to help him carry the barrel. Rip hurried to help the stranger who caught his hand tightly. Together they reached a place where there were some more odd looking men, playing ninepins. They were all dressed the same way and all of them had beards of various shapes and colours. Even though they were playing a game, their faces were serious and there was silence! The only sound was the noise of the balls, which echoed in the mountains like thunder.

As Rip and his companion reached them, they stopped playing and stared at Rip with a fixed gaze. Rip was really frightened. His companion emptied the contents of the barrel into glasses and made Rip drink it. Rip obeyed as he was trembling with fear. Since he was thirsty he drank a few more glasses and slowly fell into a deep sleep.

On waking up, he found that he was at the place where he had first met the old man. He rubbed his eyes — it was a bright sunny morning. "Surely, I have not slept here all night," thought Rip.

He looked around for Wolf, but he was nowhere. Rip whistled for him. "Wolf! Wolf!" he then shouted. No dog was to be seen. "Where has this dog gone?" he muttered to himself. He began to descend the mountain to go back to his village.

As he neared the village, he met a number of people but he didn't know any of them. The villagers also stared at him equally surprised. “Who is this man?” said one.

“I've never seen him before,” said another, “look at his long white beard and his wrinkled face.”

On hearing this, Rip stroked his chin and, to his astonishment, he found his beard had grown a foot long, and it was all white!

An old woman walked up to him and looked at his face for a moment. Then she exclaimed — “It is Rip Van Winkle! Welcome home again, old neighbour! Where have you been these twenty long years?

UNIT 4

Poem: The Lazy Frog
Story: Rip Van Winkle

THEMES

Value of time
Social behaviour
Discouraging laziness
Encouraging hard work

READING TIME

The meanings of the difficult words have to be explained alongside. The children should also learn to use the dictionary on their own. Silent reading by the students should be done before attempting the Let's Read exercises. This will help them to develop the reading skills of skimming and scanning.

CONVERSATION TIME

Each child should get a chance to be Rip's neighbour. Let them speak sentences that are in the lesson. The children should also be encouraged to imagine what all had happened in the twenty years that Rip was away. However, the teacher should see that they don't commit factual errors that contradict the main storyline.
E.g. all those playing the part of the village children can have English names.

WRITING TIME

Many of the questions are open-ended and could have a variety of responses. This should be encouraged. Some of the exercises in the unit are reflective and allow the child to think about and understand his likes and dislikes.

PROJECT WORK

The meaning of the proverb 'Time and tide wait for no man' can make an important contribution to the character-building of the children.

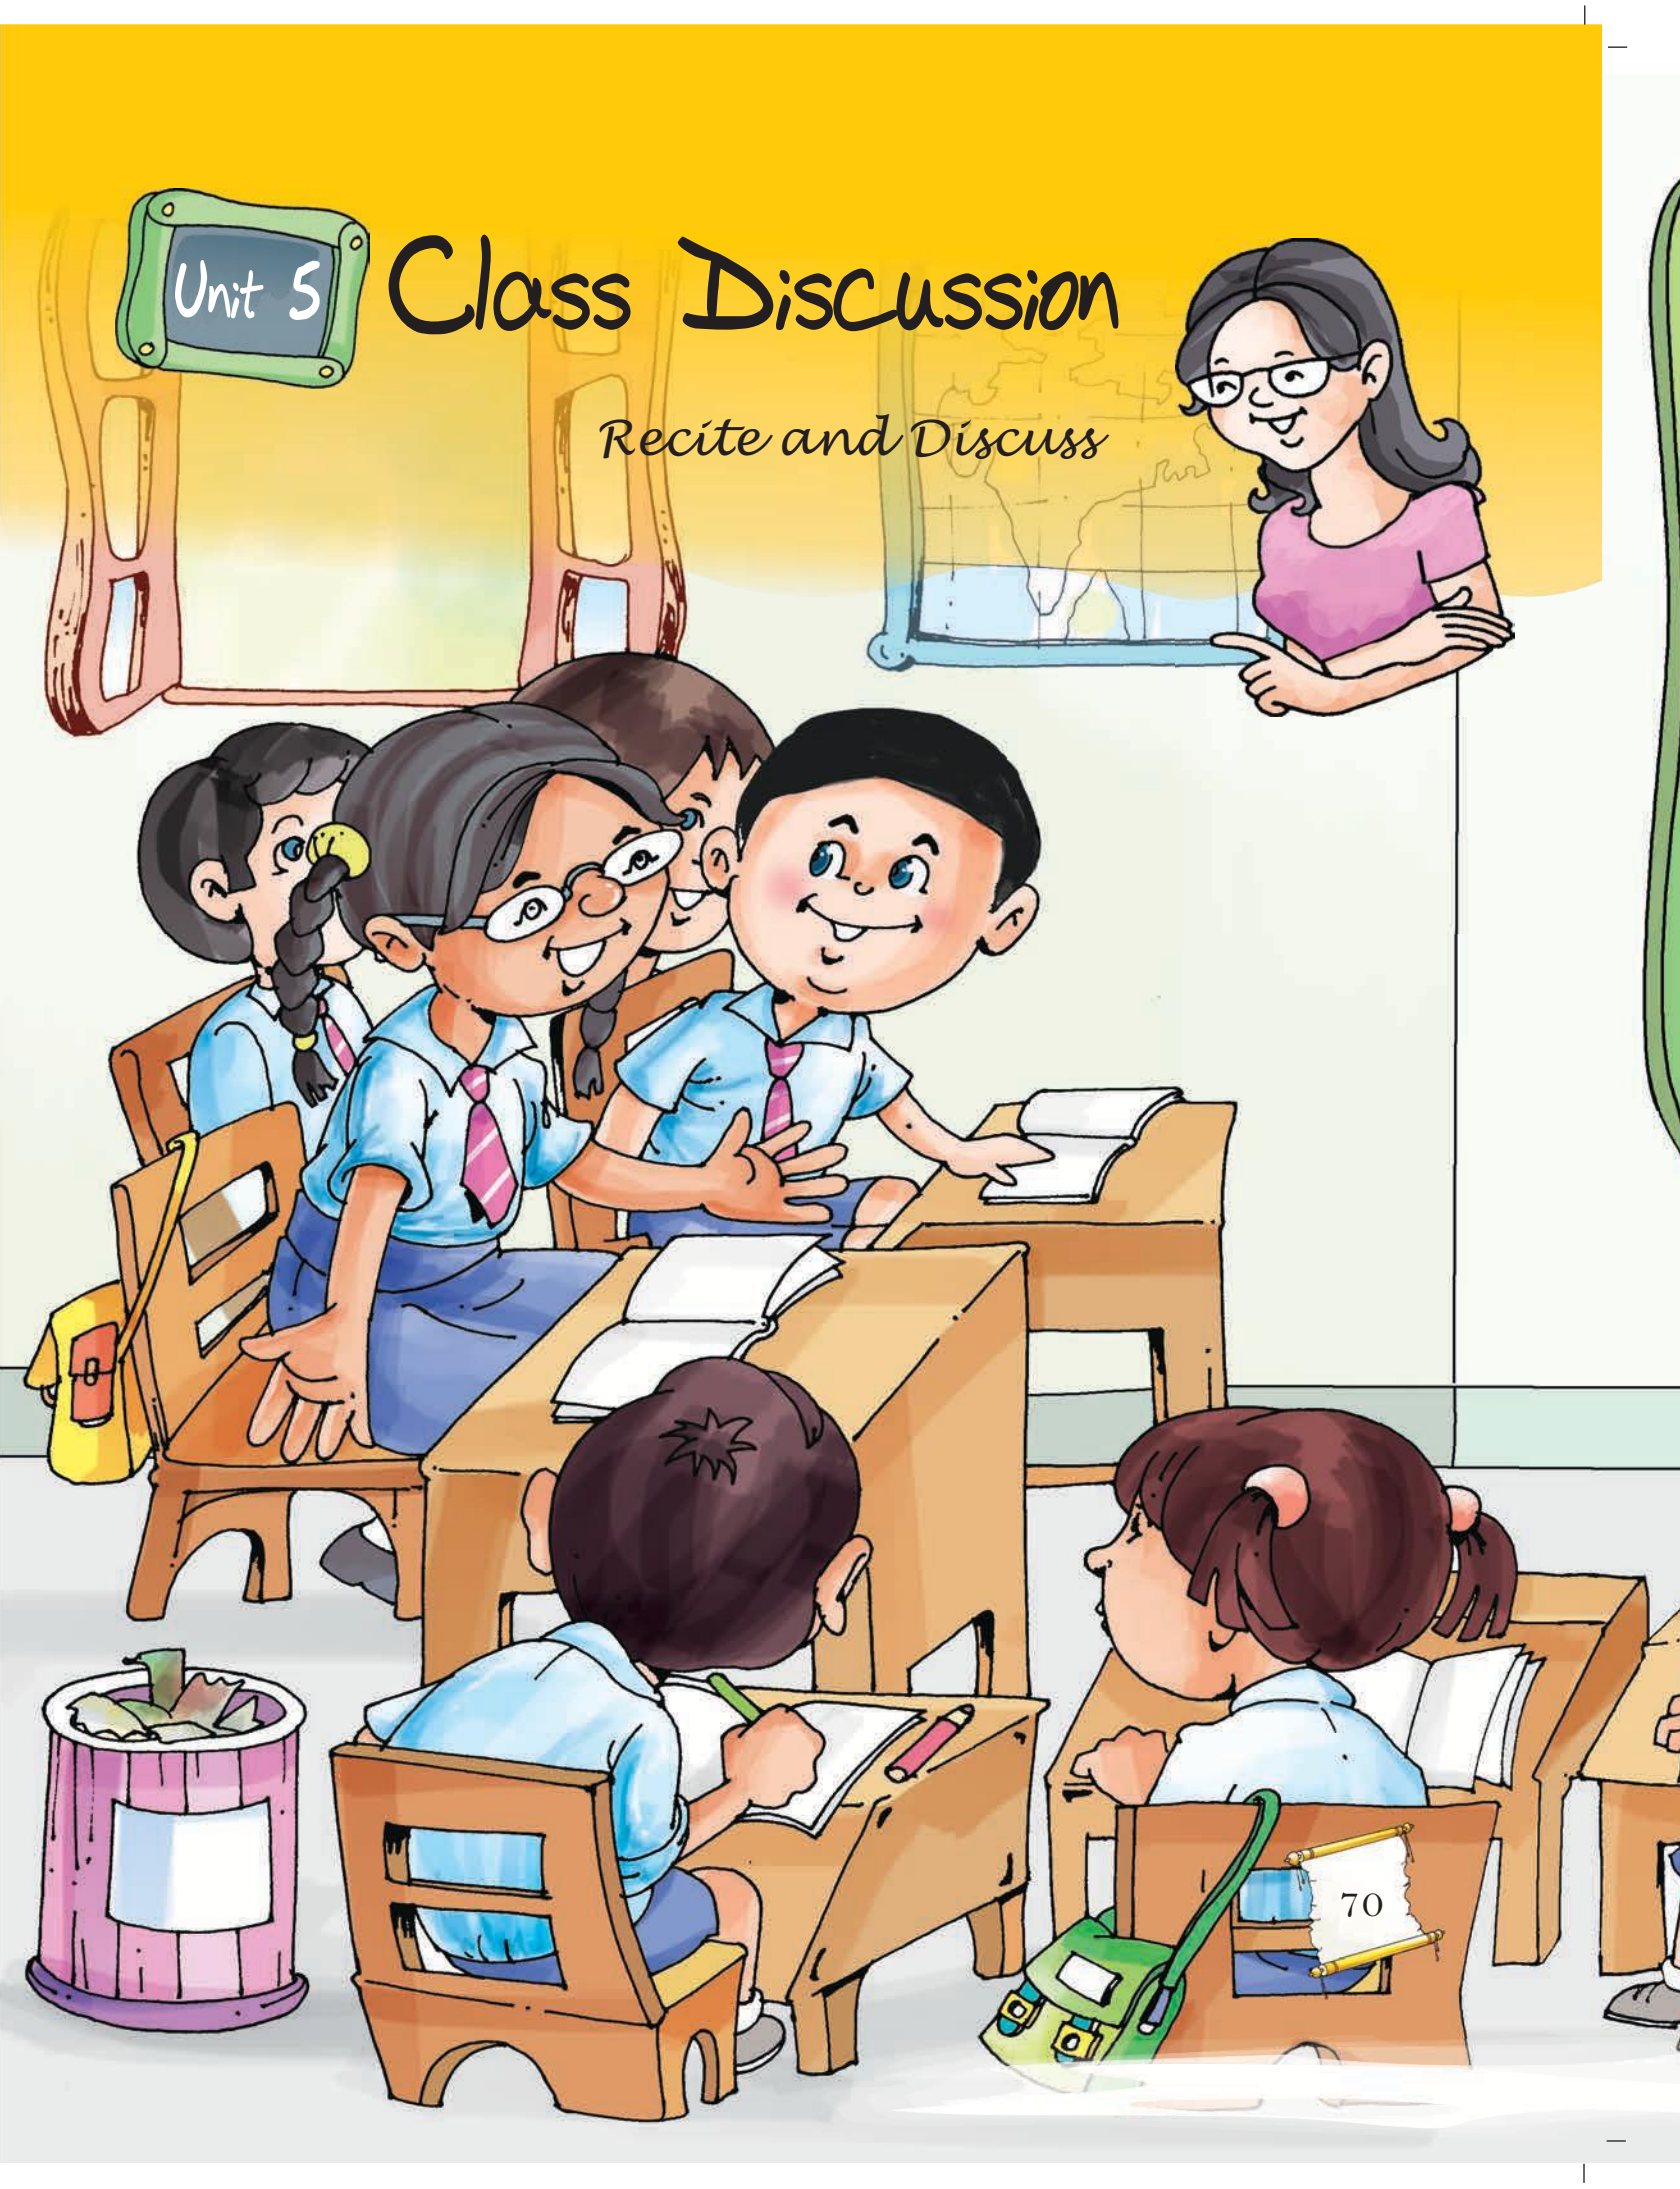

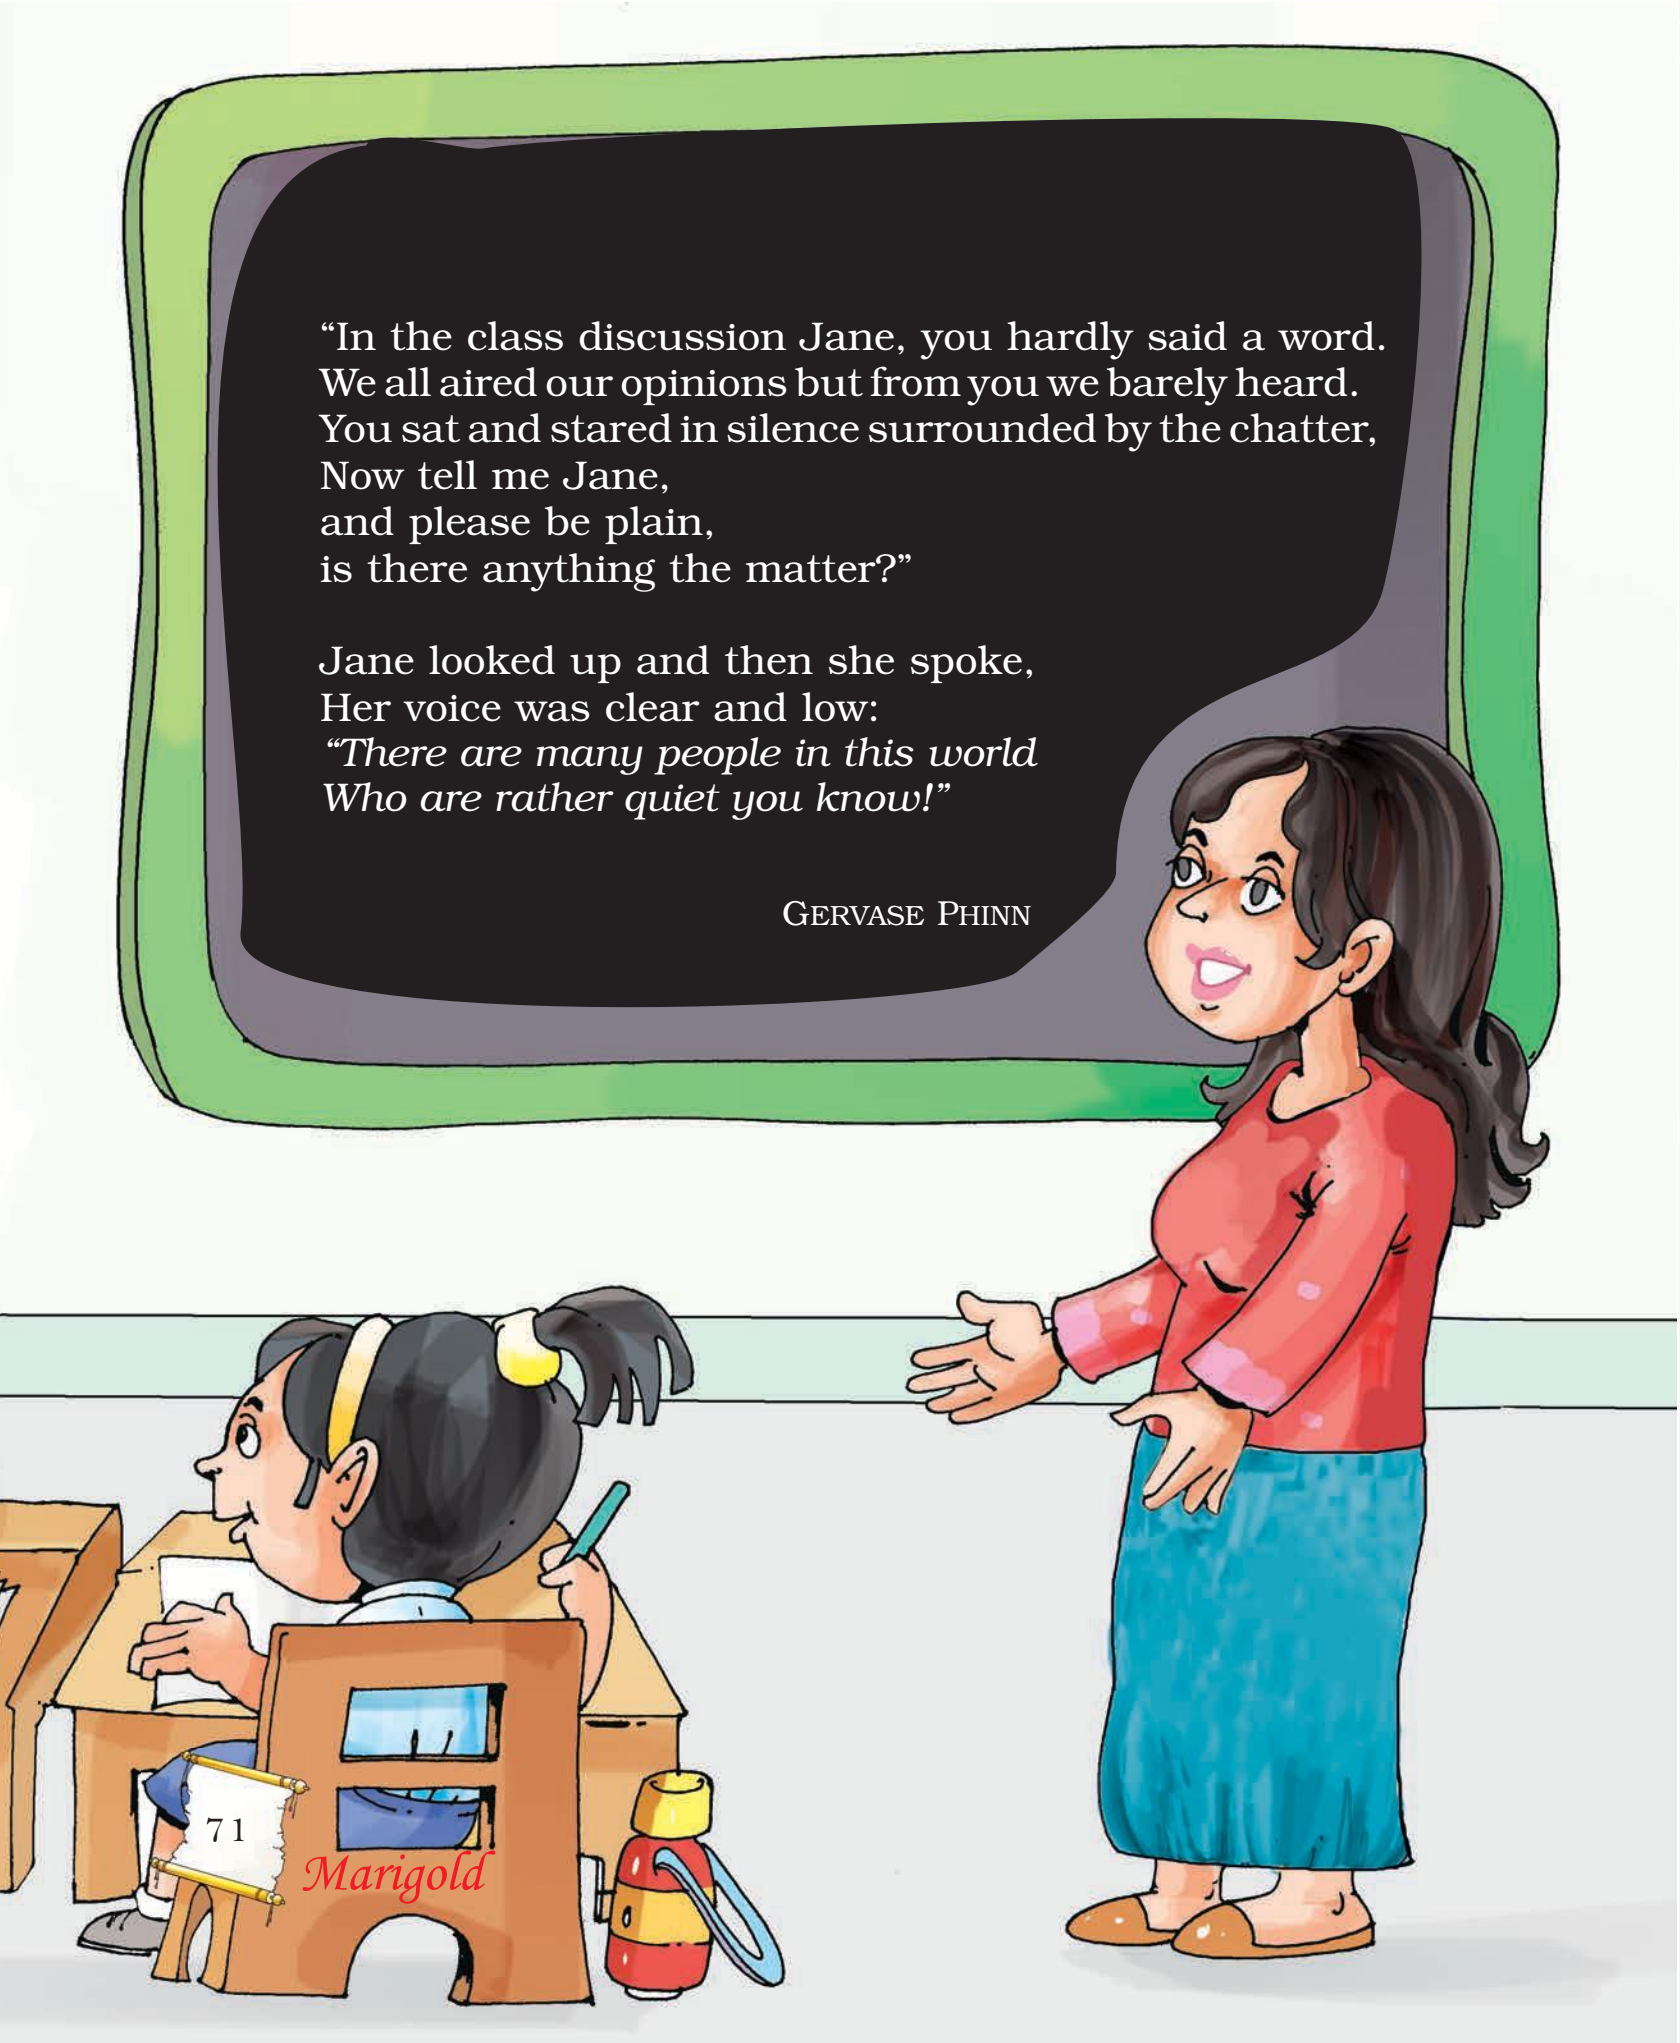

The importance of being on time must also be stressed upon and the children should be asked to cite examples and situations from their own lives.

Unit 5

Class Discussion

Recite and Discuss

"In the class discussion Jane, you hardly said a word.
We all aired our opinions but from you we barely heard.
You sat and stared in silence surrounded by the chatter,
Now tell me Jane,
and please be plain,
is there anything the matter?"
Jane looked up and then she spoke,
Her voice was clear and low:
"There are many people in this world
Who are rather quiet you know!"

1. What is a Discussion?

To discuss means to talk together or decide something. When you do this, you are taking part in a discussion.

Read the sentences below. They tell us what happens in a discussion.

- In a discussion each person gives his ideas one by one.
- Some tell why something should be done. Others may tell how.
- Participants ask questions and answer them.
- Many ideas are given. Everyone helps to decide which ideas are the best.

Note the points you might discuss before planning a visit to the park.

(i) Choose a day and time.
(ii) What things to bring to play?
(iii) Assign duties.
(iv) Things to eat.

Look at the picture in the poem. Imagine and write what the discussion in the class is about.

2. Fill in the grid given below by assigning qualities to each person. Some clues are given here to help you.

Clues

- Sangeeta lends her pencil to her partner.
- Nirav is also called a chatterbox.
- Pranav recently saved a cat from drowning in the lake.
- Megha is just the opposite of Nirav.
- Mithila always teases everyone.

Let's Read and Do

- Children who show exceptional bravery are honoured with the bravery award to recognise their presence of mind.
- In 1957, the Indian Council of Child Welfare started these National Bravery Awards.
- Brave children are awarded cash prizes, free school education and a certificate from the Prime Minister of India. They ride on an elephant in the Republic Day parade.

- Harsh Srivastava, a 12 year old boy, and his 15 year old sister rescued a child from the attack of a raging bull.
- Yumnan Jayadeo Singh, 11 years old, jumped into the flooded river, and saved a three year-old from drowning. The act of bravery was recognised because he saved the life of an infant.

Find one story of bravery about a child. You can search for the story by talking to older people or watching a TV programme or from a film.

- Write down the story. Also mention its source.
- Narrate the story to the class.
- Which story did you like the best? Write down your reasons.

Write a Notice

A notice tells who, when, where, and what.

The girls and boys of Class V wrote notices for the bulletin board.

1. Read Sheela's notice. Discuss the questions that follow.

> Notice
> The Drama Committee will meet in the classroom on Monday, at two o'clock. We'll plan a play for our Annual Day.

- Who was to meet?
- When were they to meet?
- Where were they to meet?

UNIT 5

Poem: Class Discussion*

THEMES

Humour
Awareness about different kinds of personalities — talkers, quiet people and brave people

READING TIME

The use of a dictionary while doing all the vocabulary exercises should be encouraged to help students gain confidence when they come across new, challenging words. The teacher can ask the children to read stories from The Arabian Nights and other witty and humorous stories, e.g. Tenali Raman, Akbar-Birbal etc.

CONVERSATION TIME

Ask the children to talk about wit and humour and understand their importance in life. The teacher should explain that we must also learn to laugh at ourselves.

Some people talk too much and do not realise what they are saying while others do not say a word. In both cases, the problem may be shyness. The teacher can help children gain self-confidence by carrying out group activities like singing, dancing, acting, sports, or a hobby like craft, painting etc. When the child discovers he is good at something, it shall boost his self- confidence. Remember, every child has something to say and has some insight to contribute to a class discussion. The teacher needs to recognise this and help the children gain confidence, and teach them to be courteous and civil.

WRITING TIME

Before starting on the writing exercise, the teacher could do a guided writing piece, step-by-step, on the blackboard.

PROJECT WORK

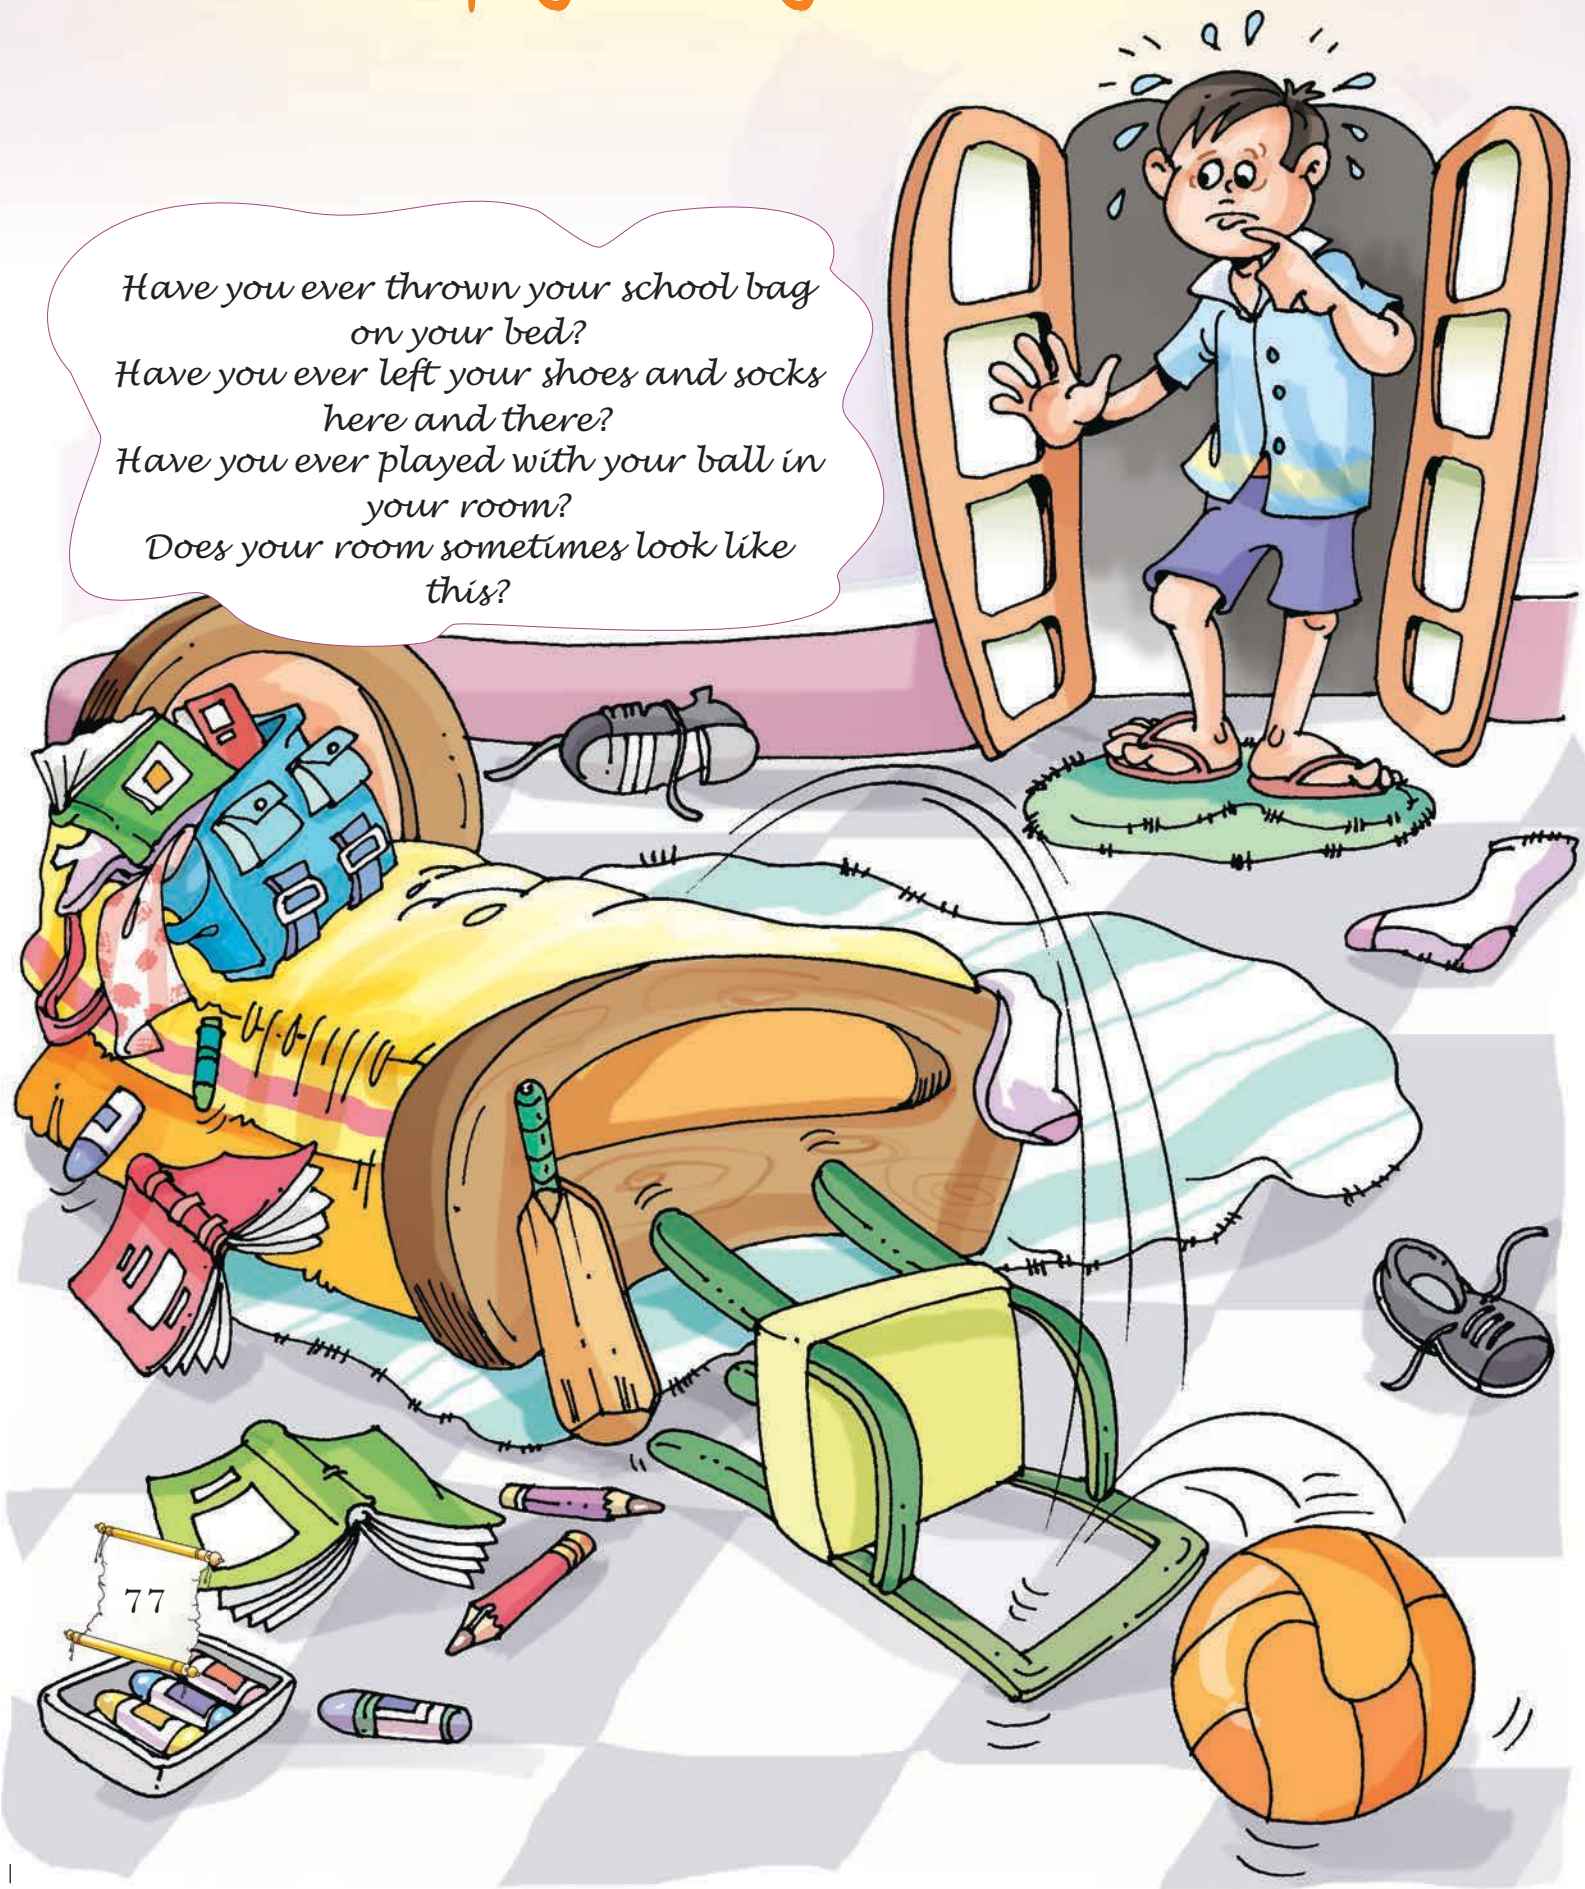

What does being brave mean?
Telling the truth, not being tempted to do naughty things, not hiding things from parents, being generous, all require children to be brave. Saving someone's life, catching thieves etc. are brave deeds. Both, being brave and doing brave deeds are creditable. It is not easy to be brave and children should be encouraged to be brave and courageous.

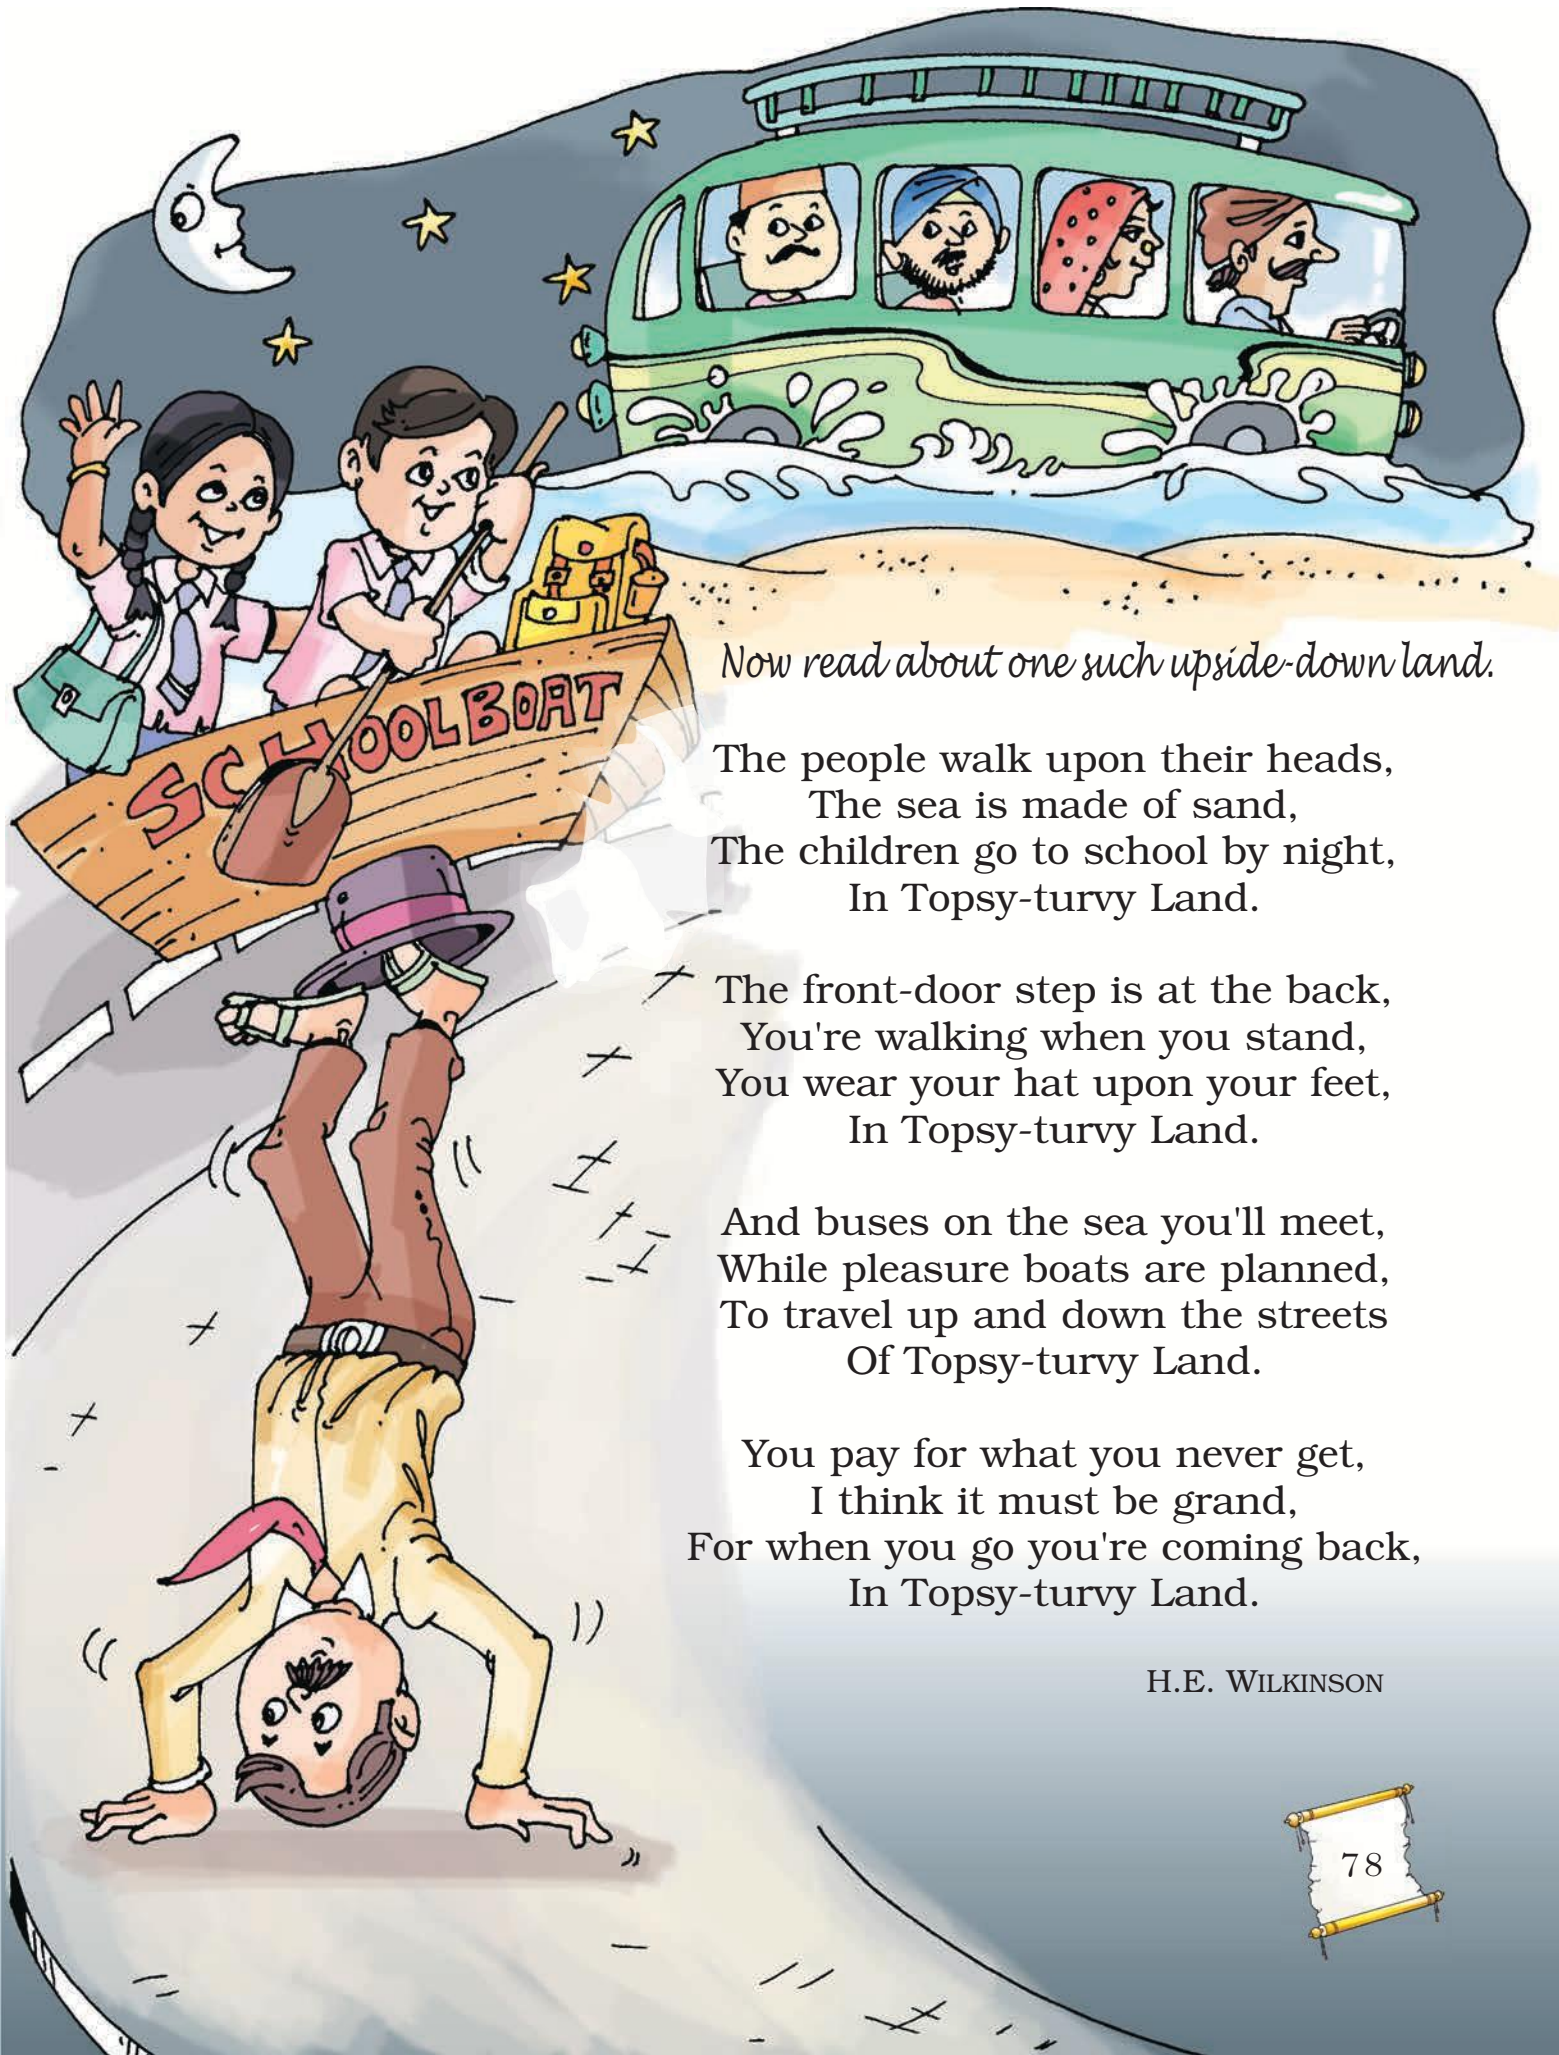

The teacher can then discuss the Republic day parade, and the significance of little children like them being given Bravery Awards.

Unit 6

Topsy-turvy Land

Have you ever thrown your school bag on your bed?
Have you ever left your shoes and socks here and there?
Have you ever played with your ball in your room?
Does your room sometimes look like this?

Now read about one such upside-down land.

The people walk upon their heads,
The sea is made of sand,
The children go to school by night,
In Topsy-turvy Land.

The front-door step is at the back,
You're walking when you stand,
You wear your hat upon your feet,
In Topsy-turvy Land.

And buses on the sea you'll meet,
While pleasure boats are planned,
To travel up and down the streets
Of Topsy-turvy Land.

You pay for what you never get,
I think it must be grand,
For when you go you're coming back,
In Topsy-turvy Land.

The Magic Kite

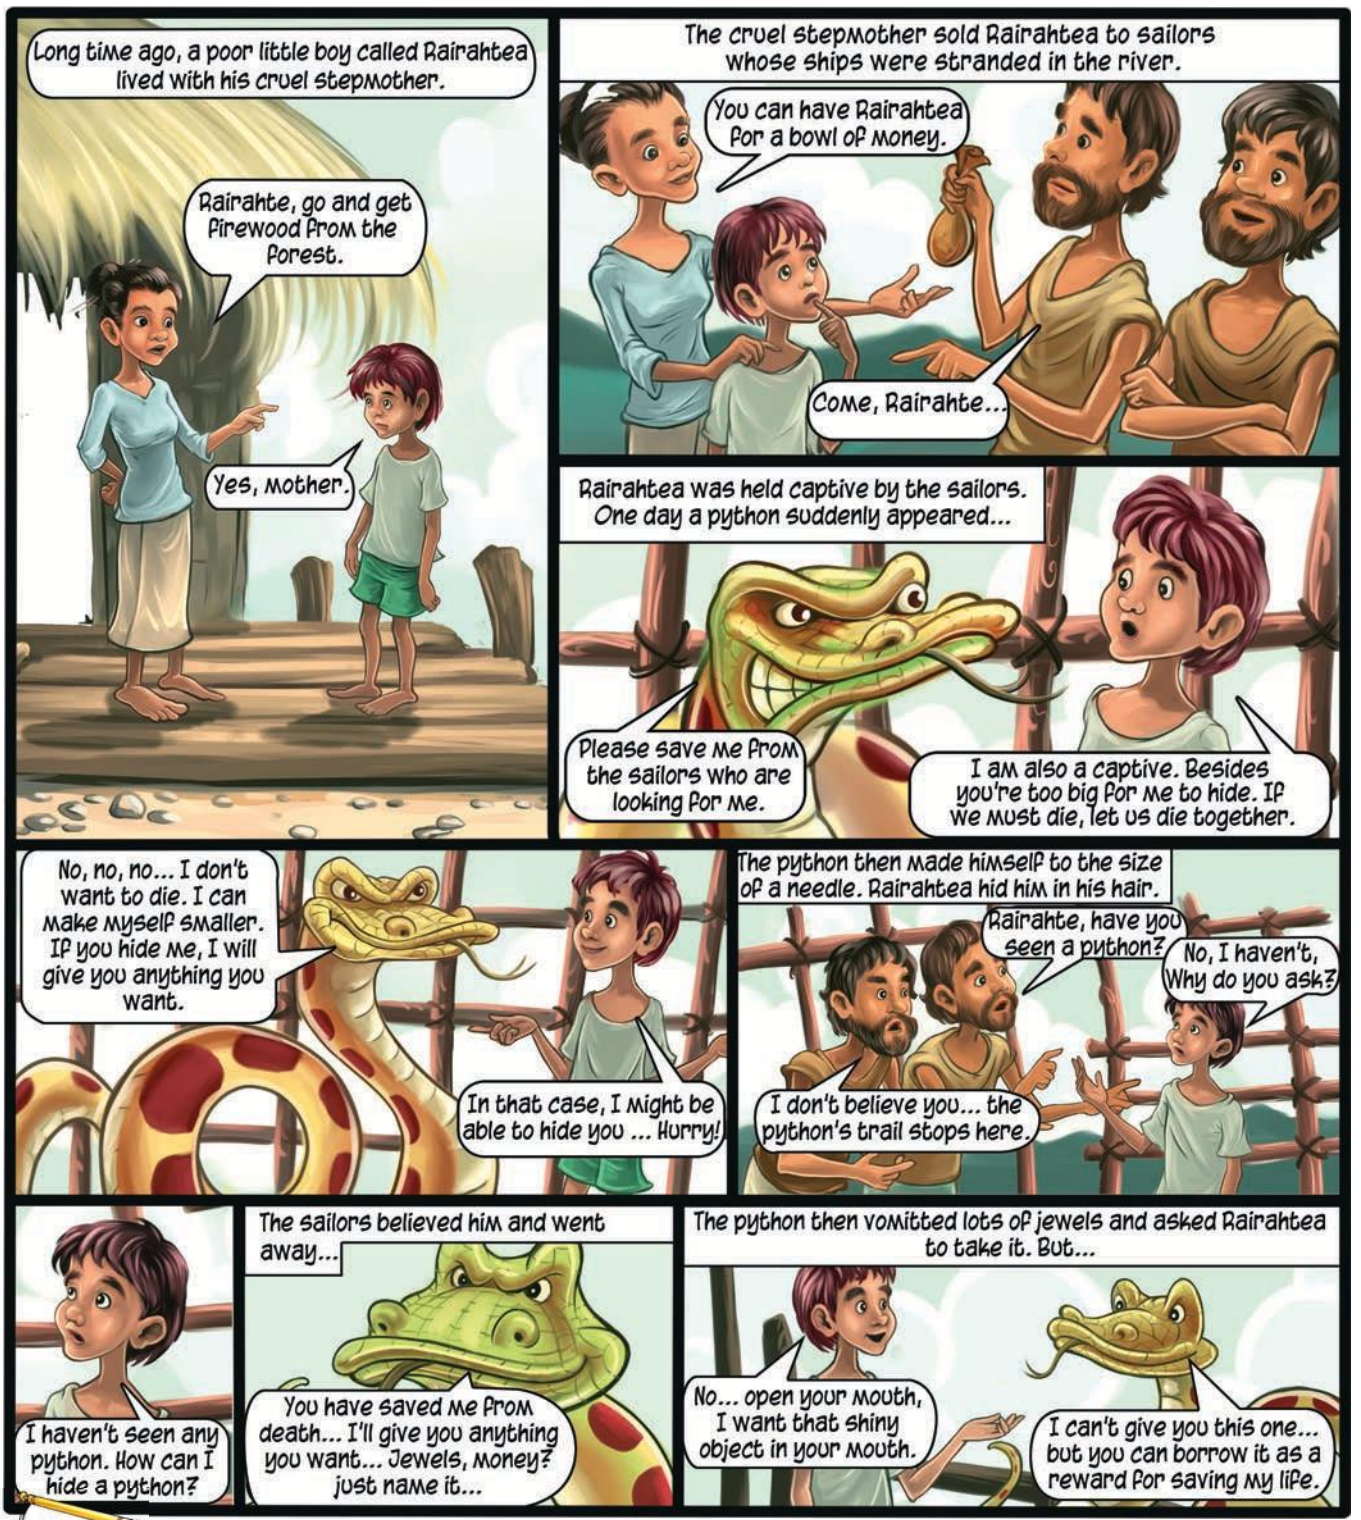

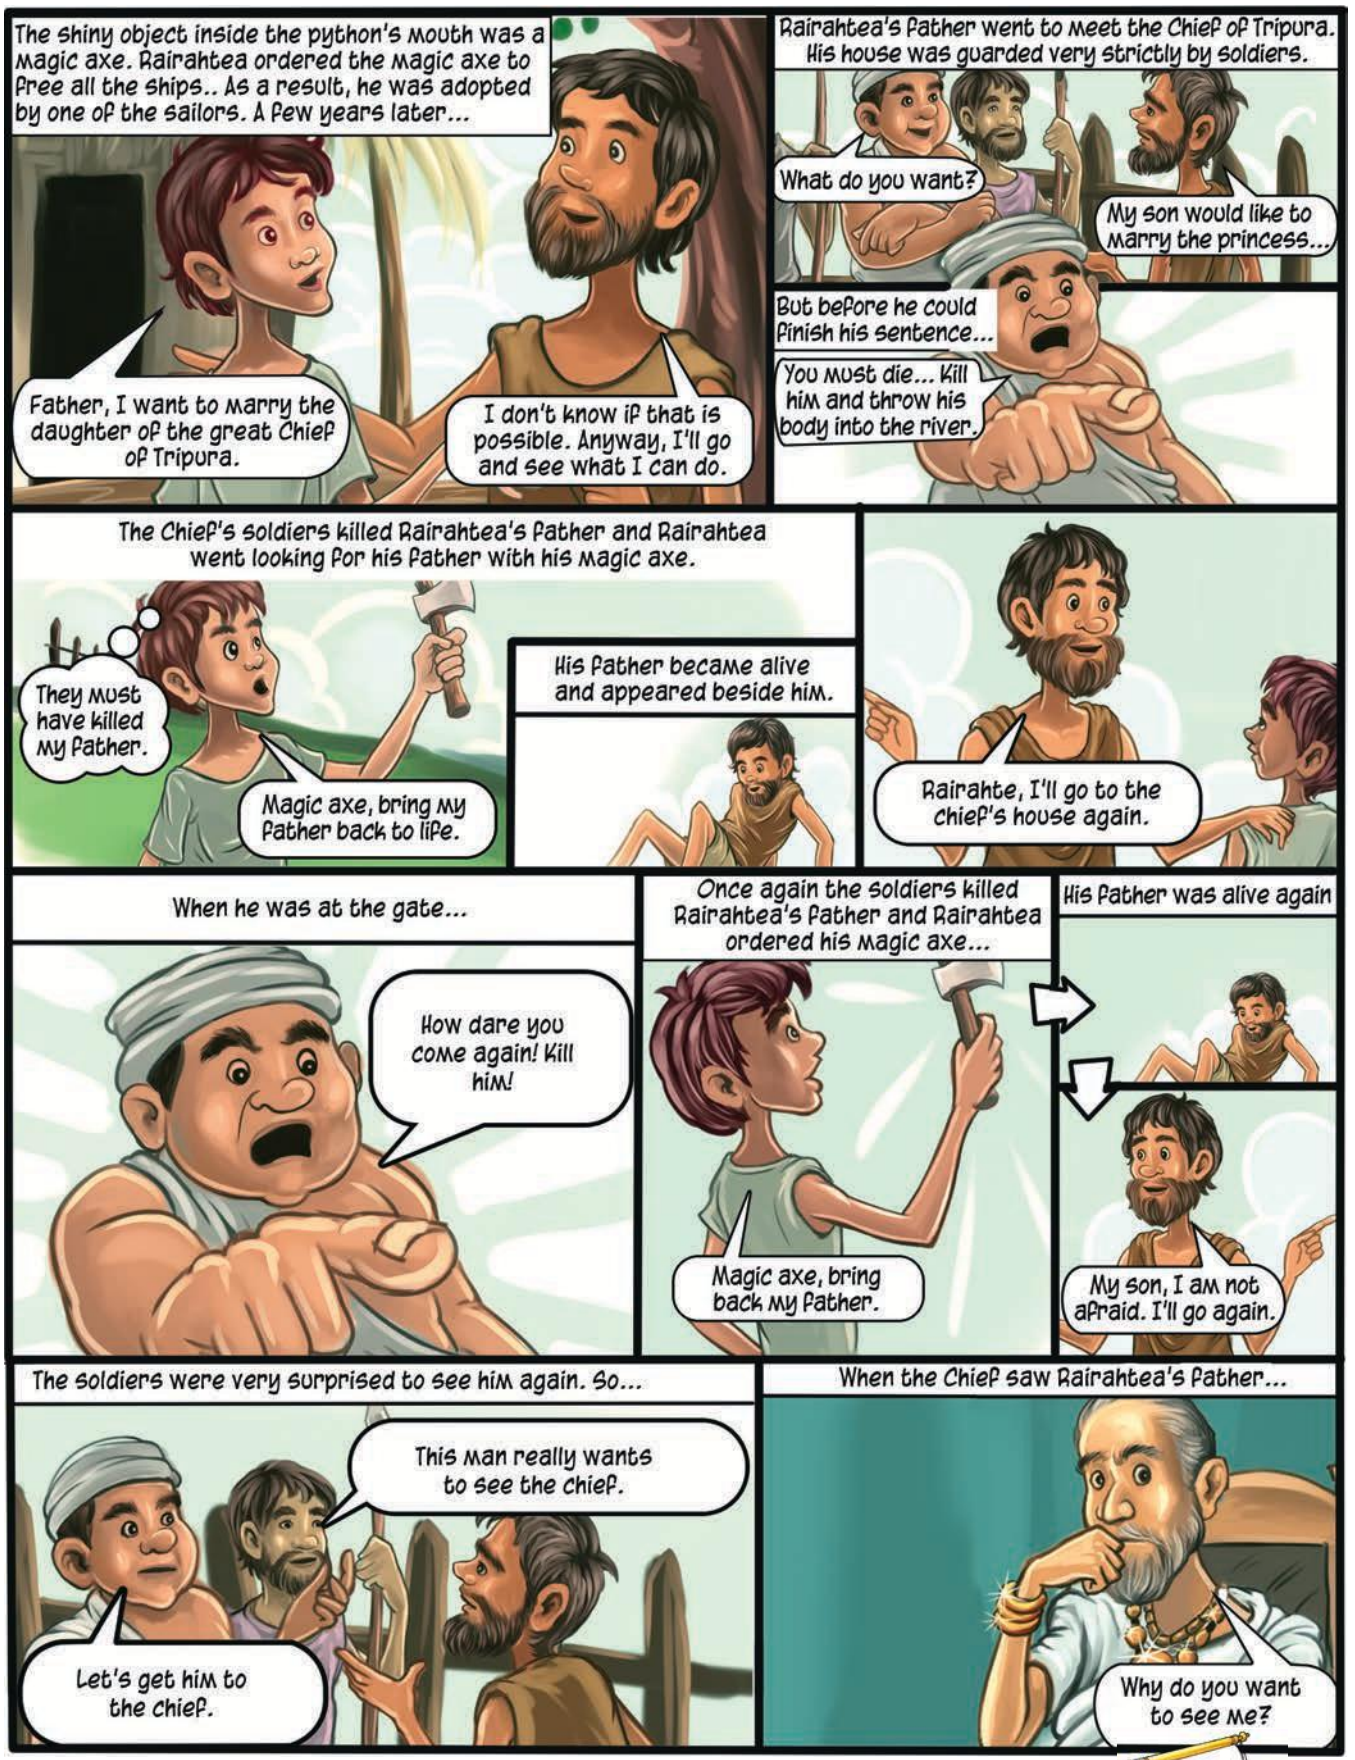

Who Did the Lion Eat?

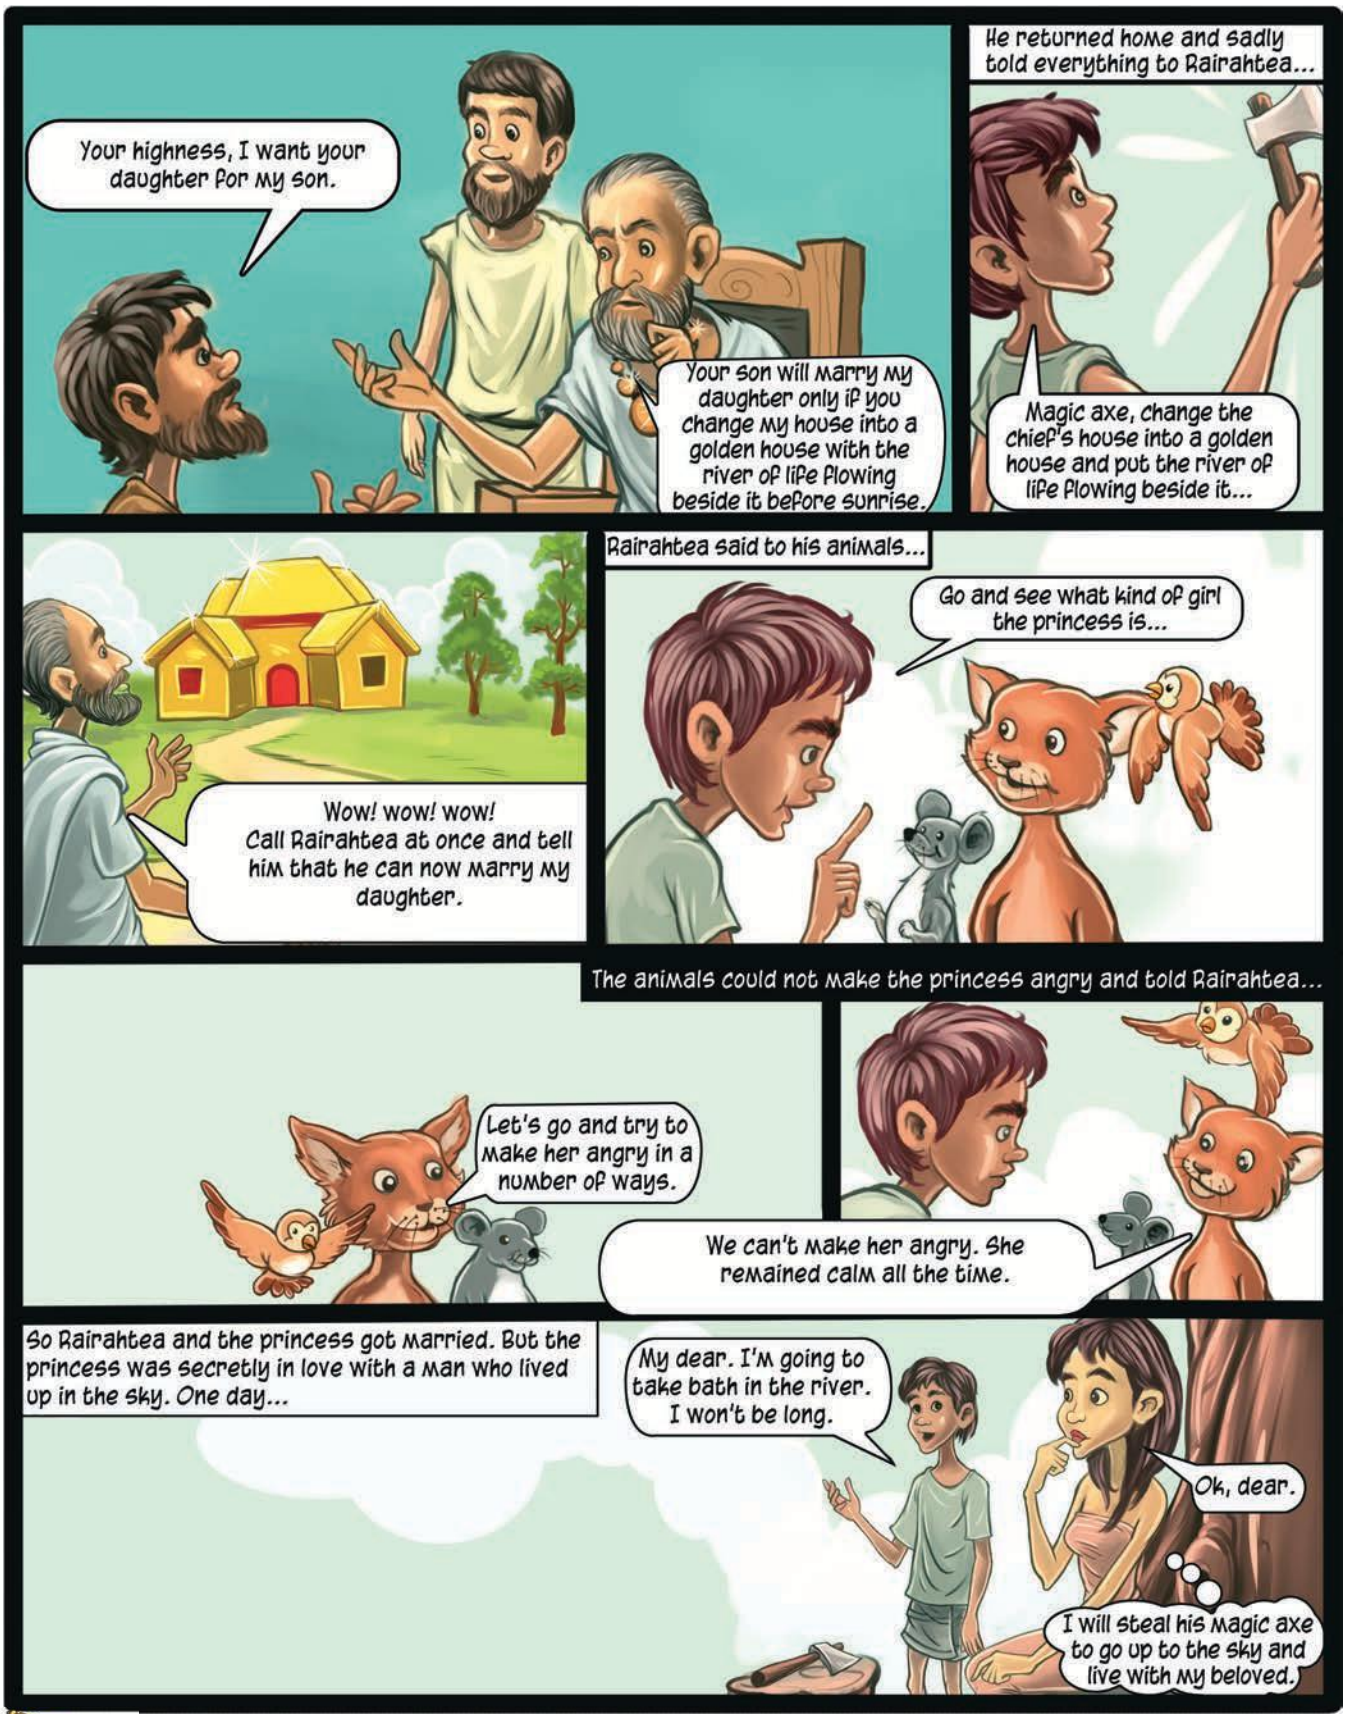

The Story of Rairahtea

The shiny object inside the python's mouth was a magic axe. Rairahtea ordered the magic axe to free all the ships.. As a result, he was adopted by one of the sailors. A few years later...
Father, I want to marry the daughter of the great Chief of Tripura.
I don't know if that is possible. Anyway, I'll go and see what I can do.
Rairahtea's father went to meet the Chief of Tripura. His house was guarded very strictly by soldiers.
What do you want?
My son would like to marry the princess...
But before he could finish his sentence...
You must die... Kill him and throw his body into the river.
The Chief's soldiers killed Rairahtea's father and Rairahtea went looking for his father with his magic axe.
They must have killed my father.
Magic axe, bring my father back to life.
His father became alive and appeared beside him.
Rairahte, I'll go to the chief's house again.
When he was at the gate...
How dare you come again! Kill him!
Once again the soldiers killed Rairahtea's father and Rairahtea ordered his magic axe...
Magic axe, bring back my father.
His father was alive again
My son, I am not afraid. I'll go again.
The soldiers were very surprised to see him again. So...
This man really wants to see the chief.
Let's get him to the chief.
When the Chief saw Rairahtea's father...
Why do you want to see me?

Your highness, I want your daughter for my son.
Your son will marry my daughter only if you change my house into a golden house with the river of life flowing beside it before sunrise.
He returned home and sadly told everything to Rairahtea...
Magic axe, change the chief's house into a golden house and put the river of life flowing beside it...
Wow! wow! wow! Call Rairahtea at once and tell him that he can now marry my daughter.
Rairahtea said to his animals...
Go and see what kind of girl the princess is...
The animals could not make the princess angry and told Rairahtea...
Let's go and try to make her angry in a number of ways.
We can't make her angry. She remained calm all the time.
So Rairahtea and the princess got married. But the princess was secretly in love with a man who lived up in the sky. One day...
My dear. I'm going to take bath in the river. I won't be long.
Ok, dear.
I will steal his Magic axe to go up to the sky and live with my beloved.

She flew up to the sky and the chief's house became the same again. He was very angry...

Go and tell Rairahtea to turn back my house into a golden house within eight days or I'll kill him...

Yes, Chief!

Rairahtea was very worried...

Animals, go and search for my magic axe.

Don't worry master, we will find it for you.

The animals found the magic axe with the princess..

These animals have come to take back the magic axe. I'll put it in my mouth so that they will not be able to steal it.

It's in her mouth.

Let's make a plan.

Ok Rat, tickle her nose with your tail and when she sneezes, grab the axe and quickly run away with it.

The animals came back with the magic axe, but by then Rairahtea was captured and kept as a prisoner in the Chief's house.

Oh! this is my magic axe... Magic axe, fill this place with mosquitoes.

Mosquitoes!... Mosquitoes!... Let's run away from this place.

Cat, go and give this axe to Rairahtea at the Chief's house.

Rairahtea got out of the prison...

Where is Rairahtea?

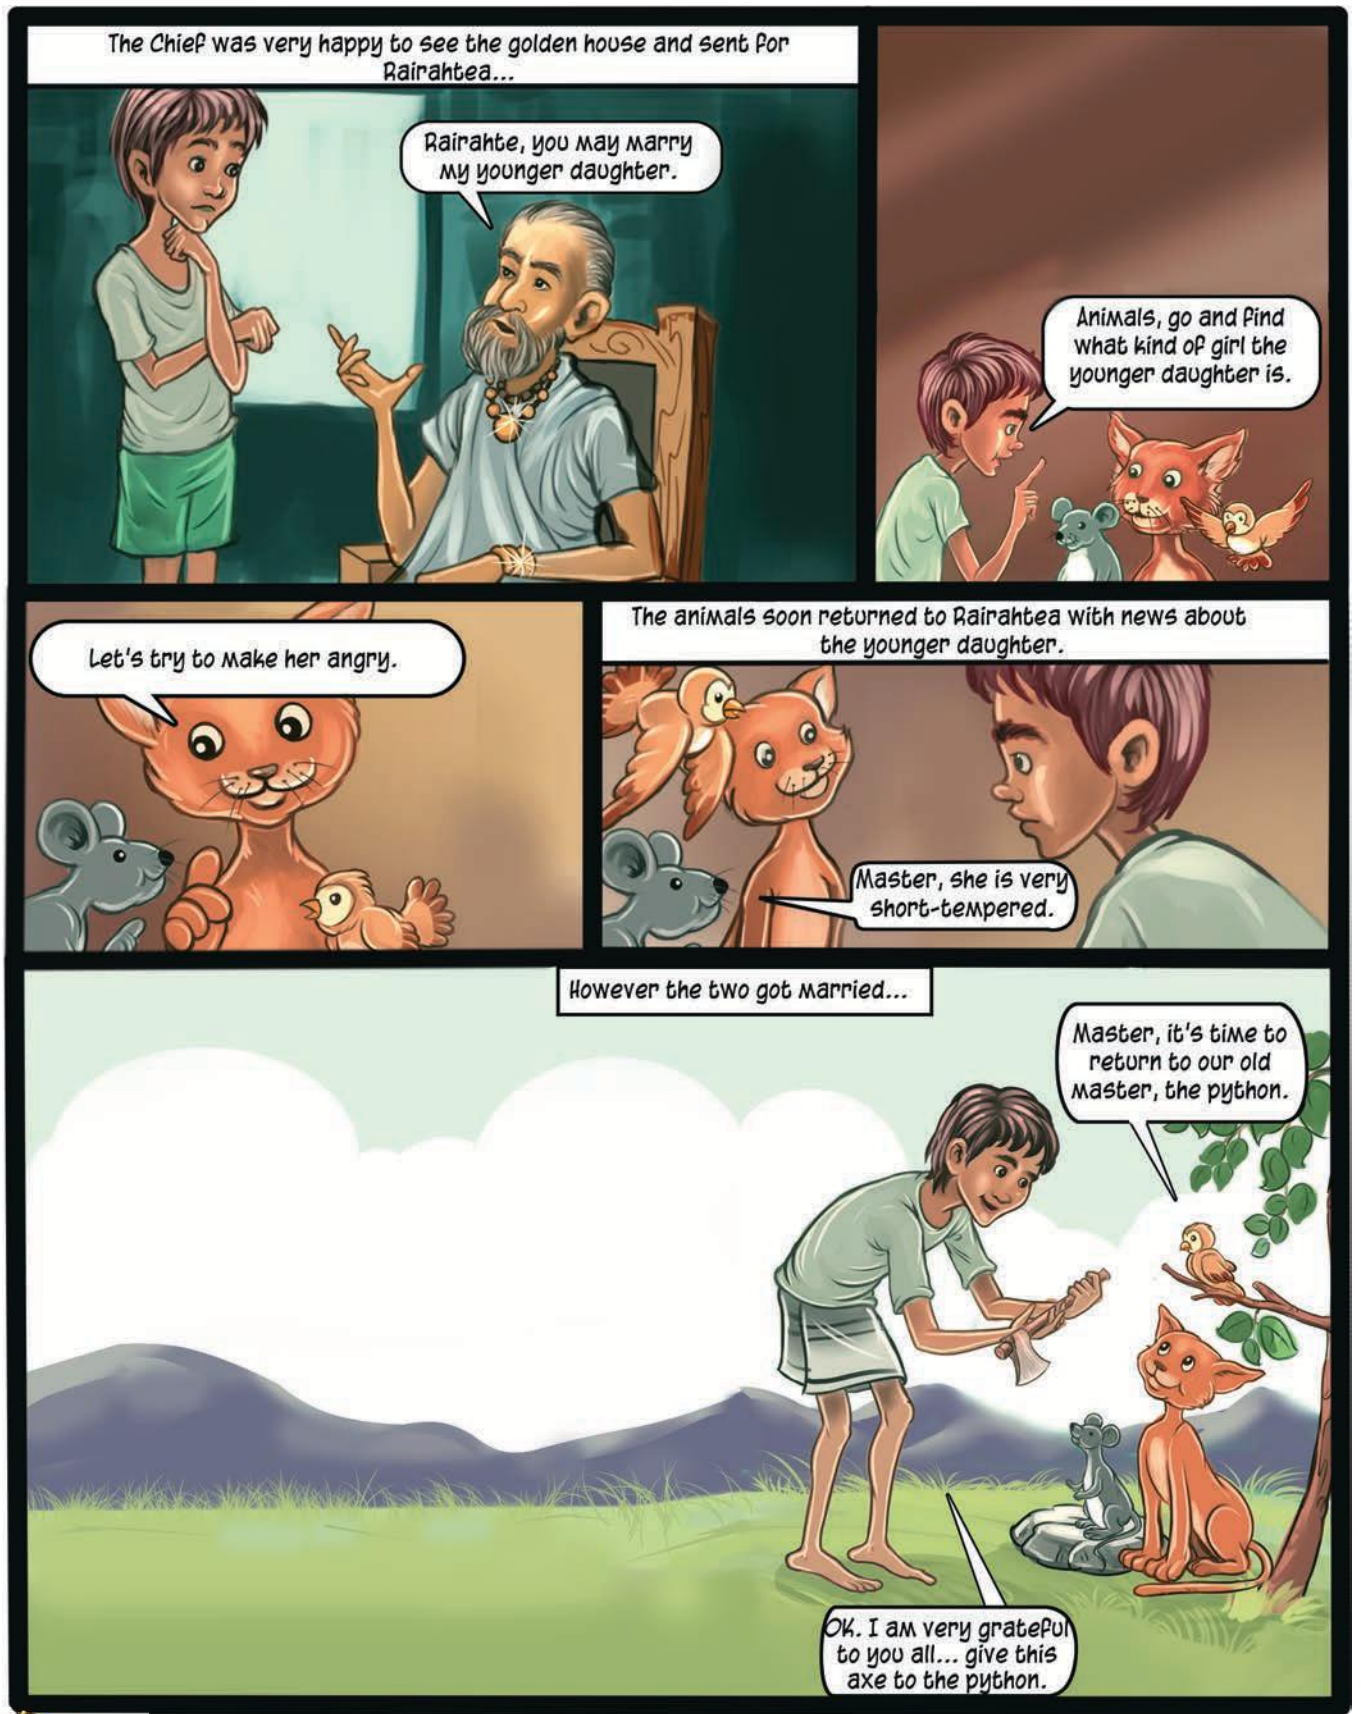

Let's find and kill him...

Seeing the soldiers trying to kill him...

Magic axe, turn the Chief's house into a golden house again.

Magic axe, bring down the princess and her lover.

The princess and her lover were immediately killed by the soldiers.

The Chief was very happy to see the golden house and sent for Rairahtea...
Rairahte, you may marry my younger daughter.
Animals, go and find what kind of girl the younger daughter is.
Let's try to make her angry.
The animals soon returned to Rairahtea with news about the younger daughter.
Master, she is very short-tempered.
However the two got married...
Master, it's time to return to our old master, the python.
OK. I am very grateful to you all... give this axe to the python.

POETRY
Once children get into the habit of reading poetry, they will find that whether happy or sad, sleepy or discouraged, homesick or pleased, there is a poem to match your mood. Our feelings, thoughts or experiences have been described by different poets at different times. Poetry is closely related to music for it appeals to the ear and has a rhythm. Enjoy the rhythm of poetry by singing or tapping your feet.

READING TIME
The story of Rairahtea is a Mizo folktale. The teacher should ask the children to read other adventure stories or folktales to enhance their reading habit.

CONVERSATION TIME
The exercises on Things you do to keep the house neat and normal and not topsy-turvy, Things that are alike (similes), Guess why (giving reasons) and Degrees of comparison can have many possible answers. The teacher can encourage sharing of some personal experiences. This can be an interesting and an effective learning aid.

WRITING TIME
Time the activities. It is at the teacher's discretion to plan the exercises.

The exercise on Punctuation needs a quick recapitulation of the different punctuation marks that the children have learnt in the lower classes, before they attempt it.

PROJECT WORK
Children can find pictures, or illustrate the 'giants' and write a few interesting facts on each in paragraph form. These could then be displayed in class.

Browsing through the encyclopedia during the 'library hour' would be a good way to do this project.

The Little Bully

Do you know of any child who teases others or pushes them around? What would you call such a child? Read this story and see how Hari, a little boy troubles other children.

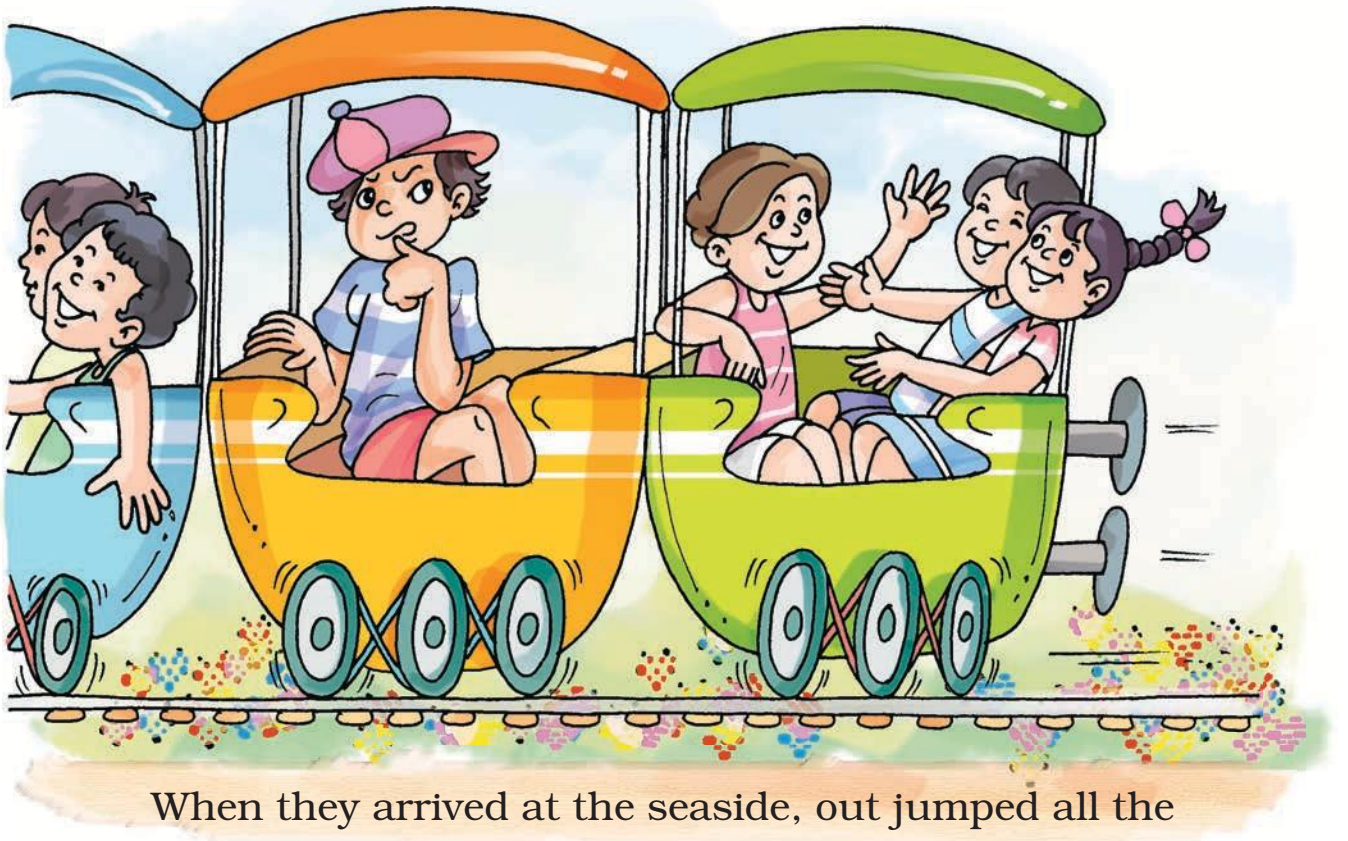

Once upon a time, not so very long ago, there was a small boy called Hari. Although he wasn't very big, he was strong, and he loved to tease all the boys and girls who went to school with him. What he loved to do most was to pinch. He could make a big bruise appear in half a second. Another trick he played was pricking people with a pin.

So you can guess how all the children hated him. They tried pinching him back, but that was no good because he could always pinch harder. They didn't like telling their teacher, because that was telling tales.

It so happened that the class went for a picnic to the seaside for a whole day. All the children were most excited.

On that day, the sun shone bright, and all the children were wild with excitement. They crowded into the train and sat down — but nobody wanted to sit next to Hari because he always pinched.

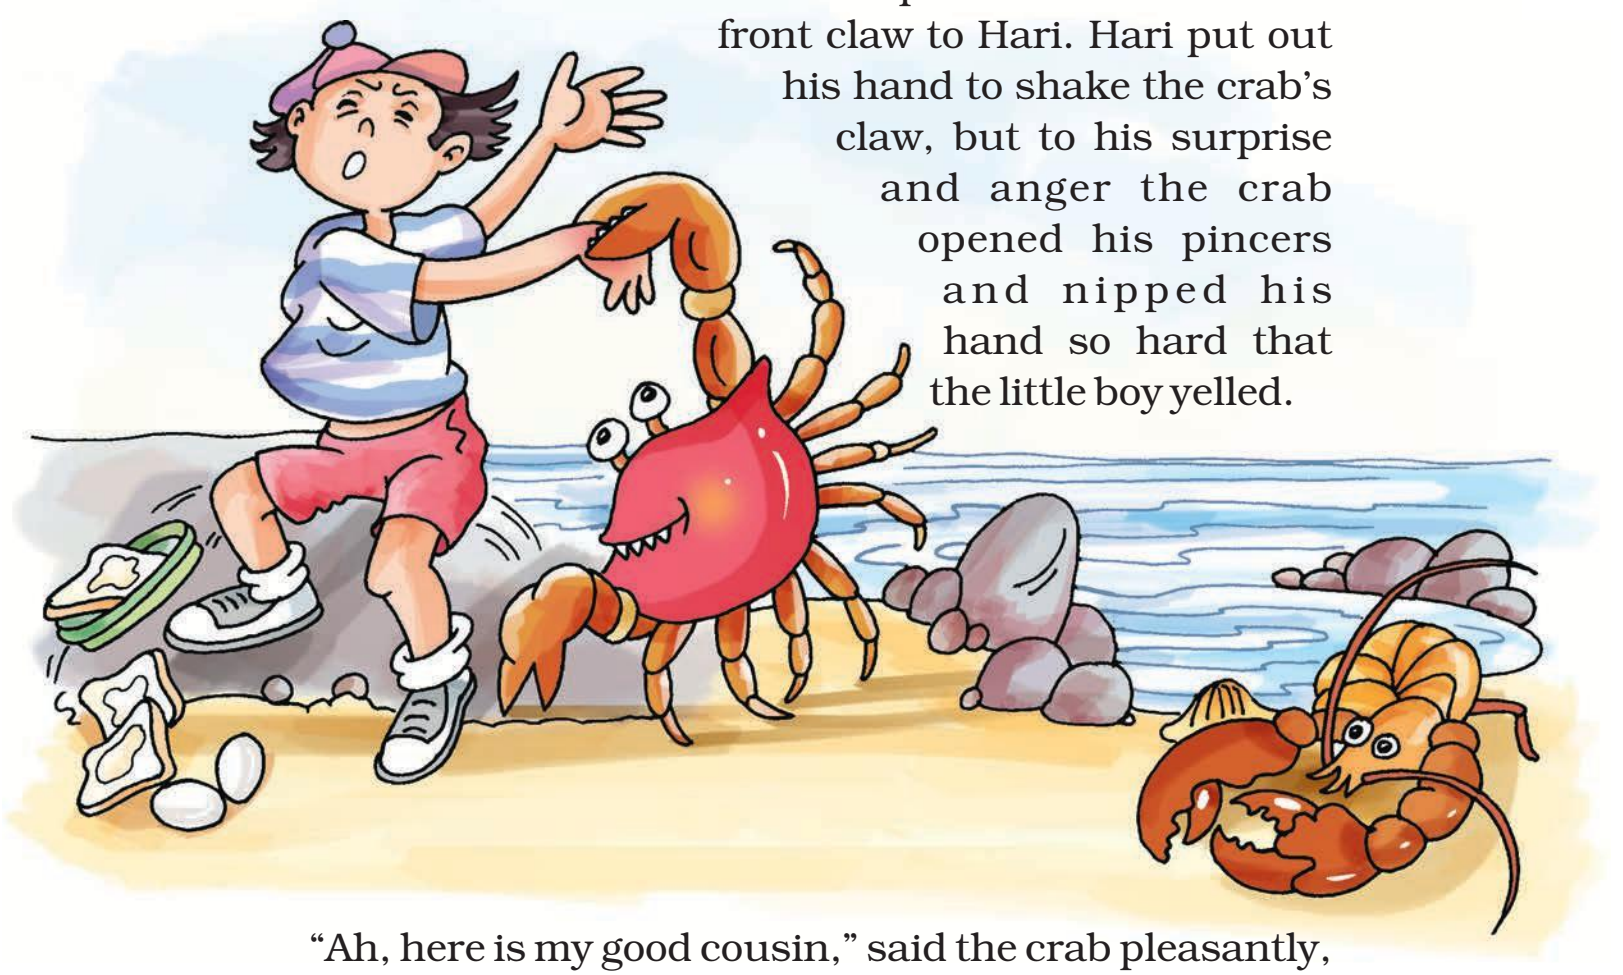

When they arrived at the seaside, out jumped all the children with a shout of joy. Down to the sands they raced, hand in hand — but nobody took Hari's hand. Nobody went near him.

Hari was angry. He went to a sandy corner near a rocky pool and sat down by himself. He took out his lunch and looked at it. It was a good lunch. There were two hard-boiled eggs, six jam sandwiches, three pieces of bread and butter, a ginger cake, and a bar of chocolate. He would eat it all by himself. He wouldn't offer anything to anyone!

Just as he was beginning on the eggs, he heard a hoarse voice near him. "Good morning! I am so pleased to meet a boy like you." Hari turned around and stared in fright. Whatever do you think he saw?

Hari saw a monster crab walking sideways out of the pool. His eyes were on the ends of short stalks and he looked most queer. He held out his front claw to Hari. Hari put out his hand to shake the crab's claw, but to his surprise and anger the crab opened his pincers and nipped his hand so hard that the little boy yelled.

"Ah, here is my good cousin," said the crab pleasantly, and, to Hari's horror, he saw a large sandy lobster crawling heavily out of the pool. Before the little boy could stop him the lobster took his hand in his great pincer-like claws and pinched it so hard that Hari yelled in pain.

Then he stared at the pool in surprise, for, out came sandy-coloured shrimps and prawns, more crabs, and another large lobster and they pricked Hari till he was soon black and blue with their pinching.

"Don't you like it?" said all the creatures in surprise. "Why, we were told you would love to see us because you were a champion pincher and pricker yourself. Come, come join in the fun!"

Hari leapt to his feet, crying loudly. His lunch rolled into the pool, and when the crabs and lobsters saw it they ran to it and began to feast eagerly. Hari saw that they had forgotten him for a time, and he turned and ran for his life, tears streaming down his cheeks.

"They only did to me what I keep doing to the other children," he thought. "But how it hurt! And how I hated those crabs and lobsters! I suppose the other children hate me too. Well, I jolly well shan't pinch or prick any more."

READING TIME

Reading of other stories by children's writers like Enid Blyton should be encouraged. Aesop's Fables are also interesting for children, and should be suggested for their reading.

CONVERSATION TIME

Discuss with the children the importance of rules in social situations and why these should be made and followed. Make them also aware of their fundamental rights and how they are inseparable from their fundamental duties. Let them list some of the rules they don't like to follow and to reason out why they also are important.

WRITING TIME

A paragraph is a group of sentences developing one topic. Choose a topic, make a plan, gather material and then construct the paragraph. Skills of paragraph writing on a proverb and collecting and presenting information on animals can be stressed upon. These can be put up on the display board.

PROJECT WORK

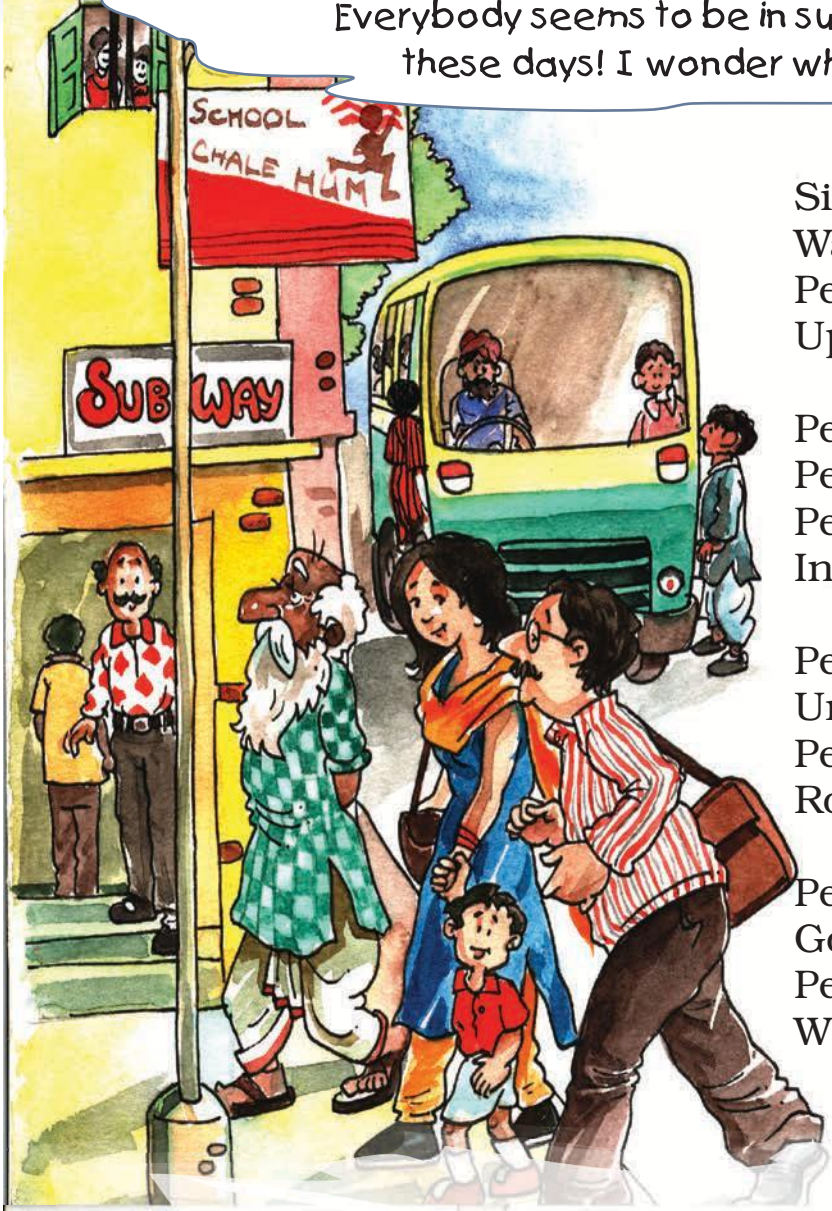

Let the children discuss about people they know and the things they like to collect. They can then talk about their own collections, how they started and what they like or would like to collect.

They could find out from the internet or an encyclopedia about some famous people who are well known for their personal collections. This information should also be displayed for everyone to see.

Unit 8

Sing a Song of People

Everybody seems to be in such a hurry these days! I wonder why?

Sing a song of people
Walking fast or slow;
People in the city,
Up and down they go.

People on the side walk,
People on the bus;
People passing, passing,
In back and front of us.

People on the subway
Underneath the ground;
People riding taxis
Round and round and round.

People with their hats on,
Going in the doors;
People with umbrellas
When it rains and pours.

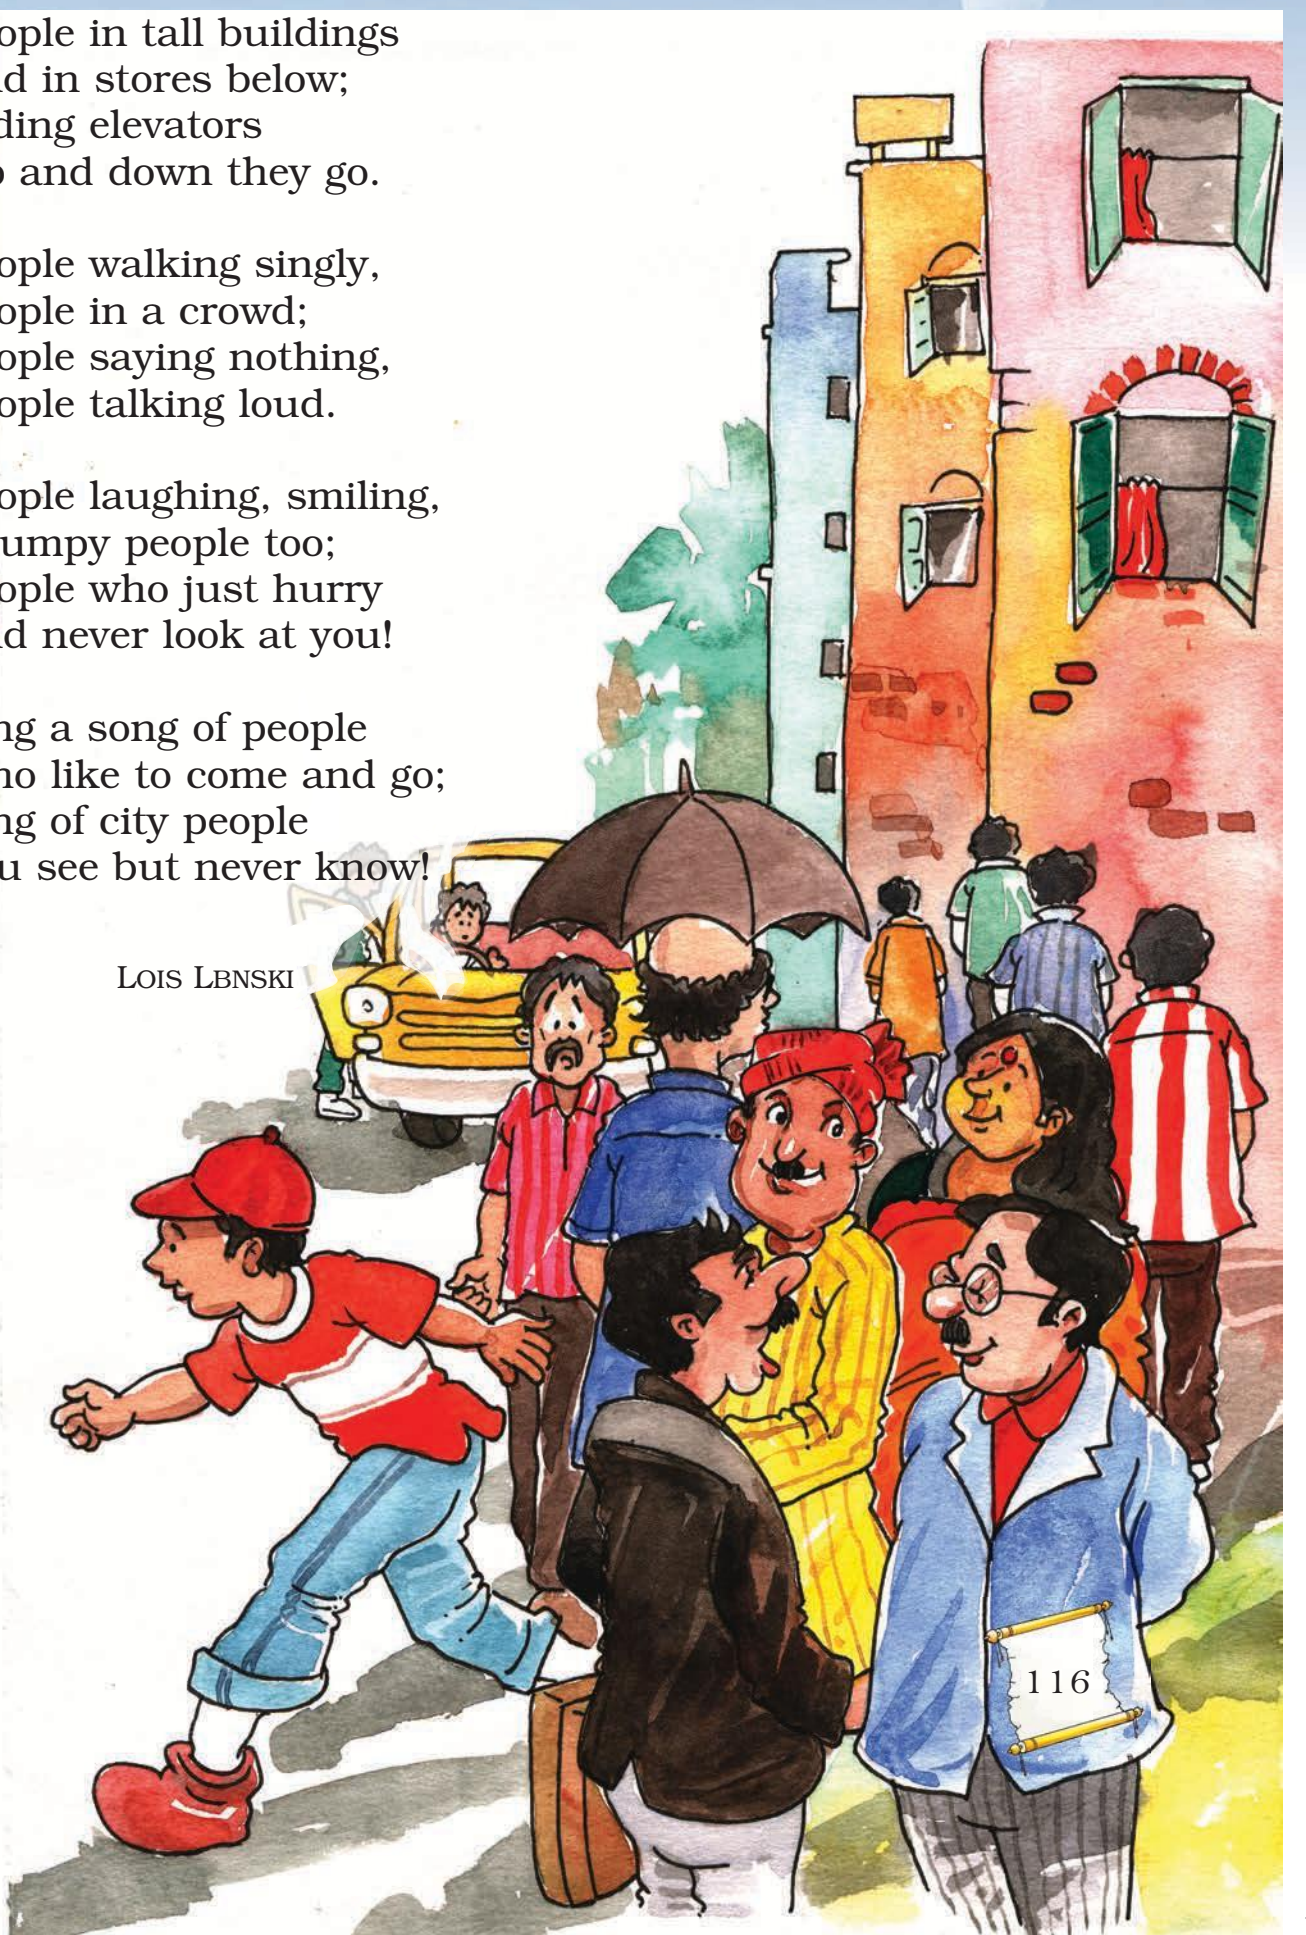

People in tall buildings
And in stores below;
Riding elevators
Up and down they go.

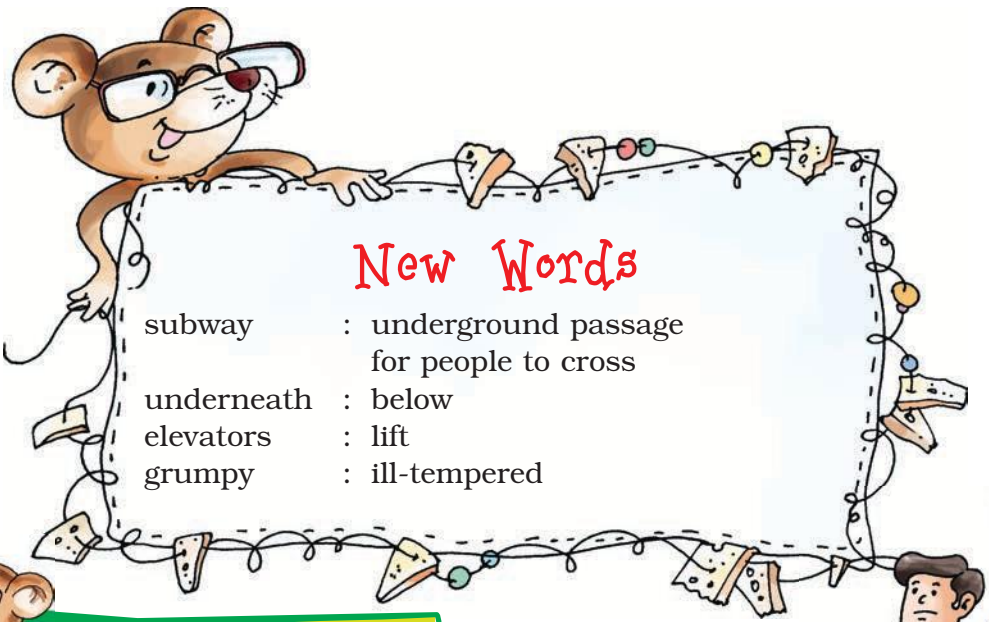

People walking singly,
People in a crowd;
People saying nothing,
People talking loud.

People laughing, smiling,
Grumpy people too;
People who just hurry
And never look at you!

Sing a song of people
Who like to come and go;
Sing of city people
You see but never know!

My home is a house
Near a wood

If I could!
I do wish someone
Lived near.
There's no one to play with
At all.
The trees are so high
And so tall:
And I should be lonely
For hours,
Were it not for the birds
And the flowers.

The City Child

I live in a city
In a street;
It is crowded with traffic
And feet;
There are buses and motors
And trams.

In a row
There is smoke everywhere
That I go.

I hear
I wish there were woods
Very near.

Malu Bhalu

Read and Enjoy

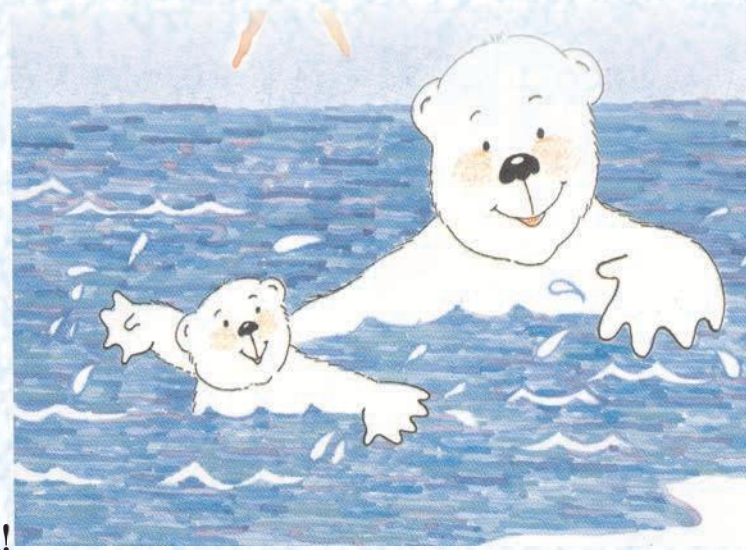

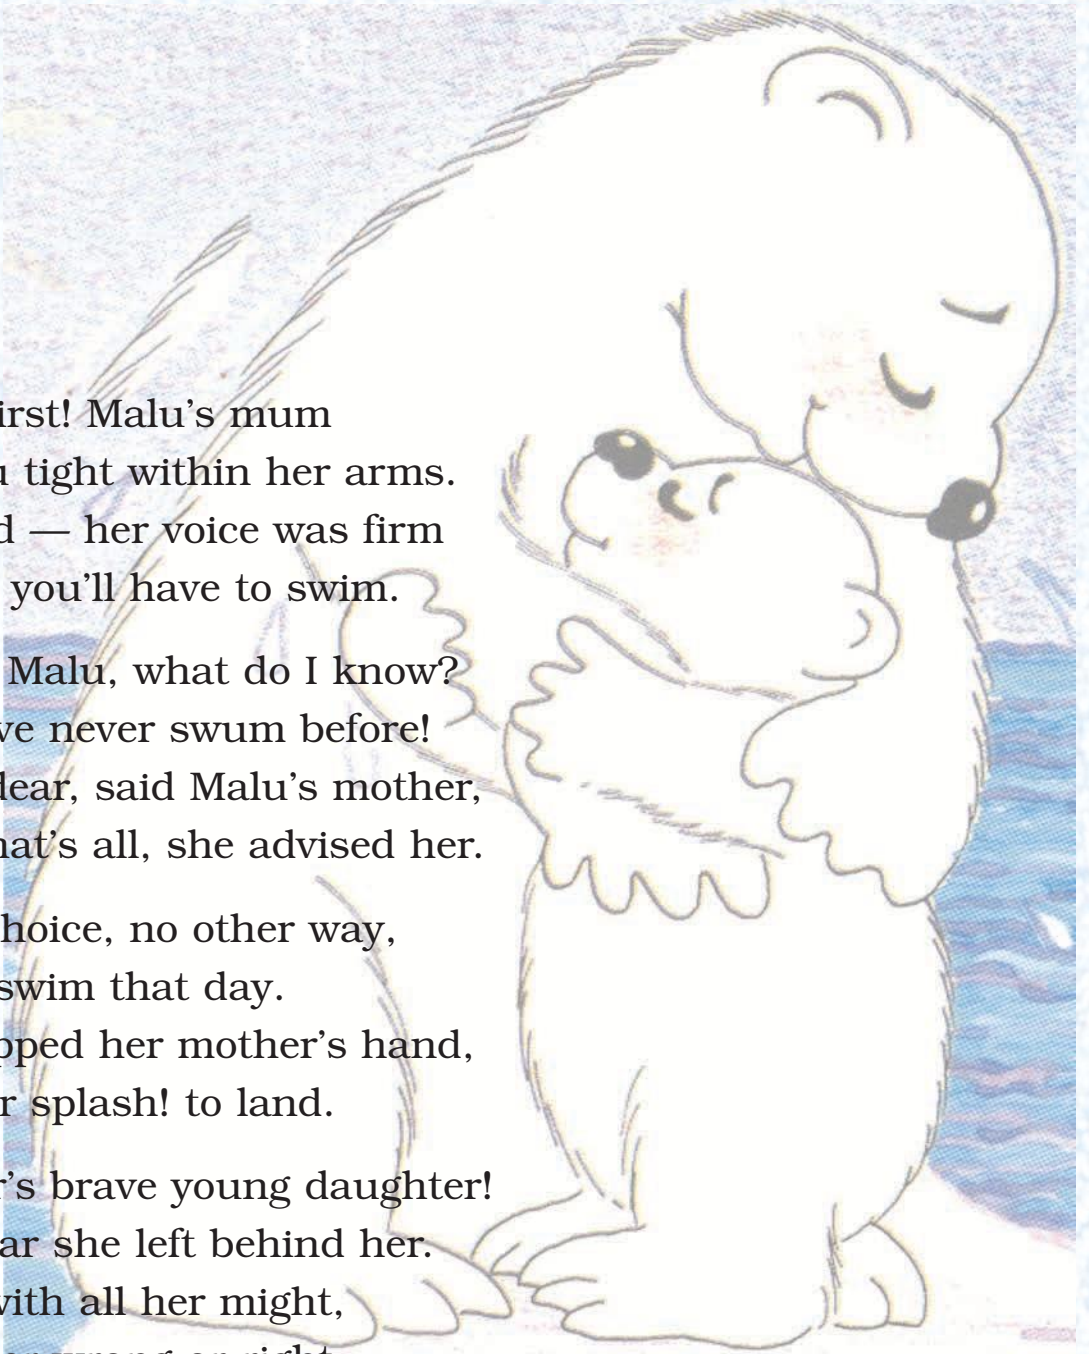

High up in an icy lair
Lived a little polar bear
Snow white, snow bright was her mane,
Malu Bhalu was her name.

Very soon our Malu Bhalu
Learnt the things her parents knew.
Fish to catch, big and small...
Malu was a clever girl.

Malu said to her mother one day:
Ma, I'm going far out to play.
I want to see the things that lie

There beyond the big blue sky.
A little patience, child, said Mum,
In the summer when next it comes.
Summer?... Patience?... What a test!
Malu simply could not rest.

First things first! Malu's mum
Clasped Malu tight within her arms.
Then she said — her voice was firm
Now my dear you'll have to swim.

But Ma! said Malu, what do I know?
How will I? I've never swum before!
Don't worry dear, said Malu's mother,
Do as I do, that's all, she advised her.

She had no choice, no other way,
Malu had to swim that day.
Tight she gripped her mother's hand,
Into the water splash! to land.

Brave mother's brave young daughter!
Doubt and fear she left behind her.
Malu swam with all her might,
It didn't matter wrong or right.

But swimming came so naturally,
Her mother knew this and all could see.
Fearless was Malu, this she knew,
Not just brave, but special too.

Who will be Ningthou?

A king is called a Ningthou and a queen is called a Leima in Manipuri. This is a story from Manipur about what qualities make a good ruler.

Read and Enjoy

Long, long ago, in the land of Kangleipak in Manipur, there lived a Ningthou and a Leima. They were loved dearly by the people.

The Ningthou and Leima, on their part, never stopped thinking about their meeyam, their people. "Our meeyam should be happy," they said.

The people were not the only ones who loved their Ningthou and Leima. The birds and animals too loved them. The Ningthou and Leima always said: "Everybody in Kangleipak should live in peace. Not only the people, but the birds, animals and trees."

Their beloved king and queen had three sons: Sanajaoba, Sanayaima and Sanatomba.

Twelve years later, a daughter was born. She was named Sanatombi. She was a lovely child, soft and beautiful inside. She was loved by one and all.

The years went by, and the children grew up well. And then one day, the Ningthou called all his ministers and said: "It is now time to decide the Tunggi Ningthou, the future king."

The ministers were shocked. "But O Ningthou, what is there to decide? Sanajaoba, your eldest son, will be our future king."

"Well," the Ningthou replied. "That's how it happened in the old days. The eldest son always became the king. But times have changed. So let us select a king who is most worthy of becoming a king."

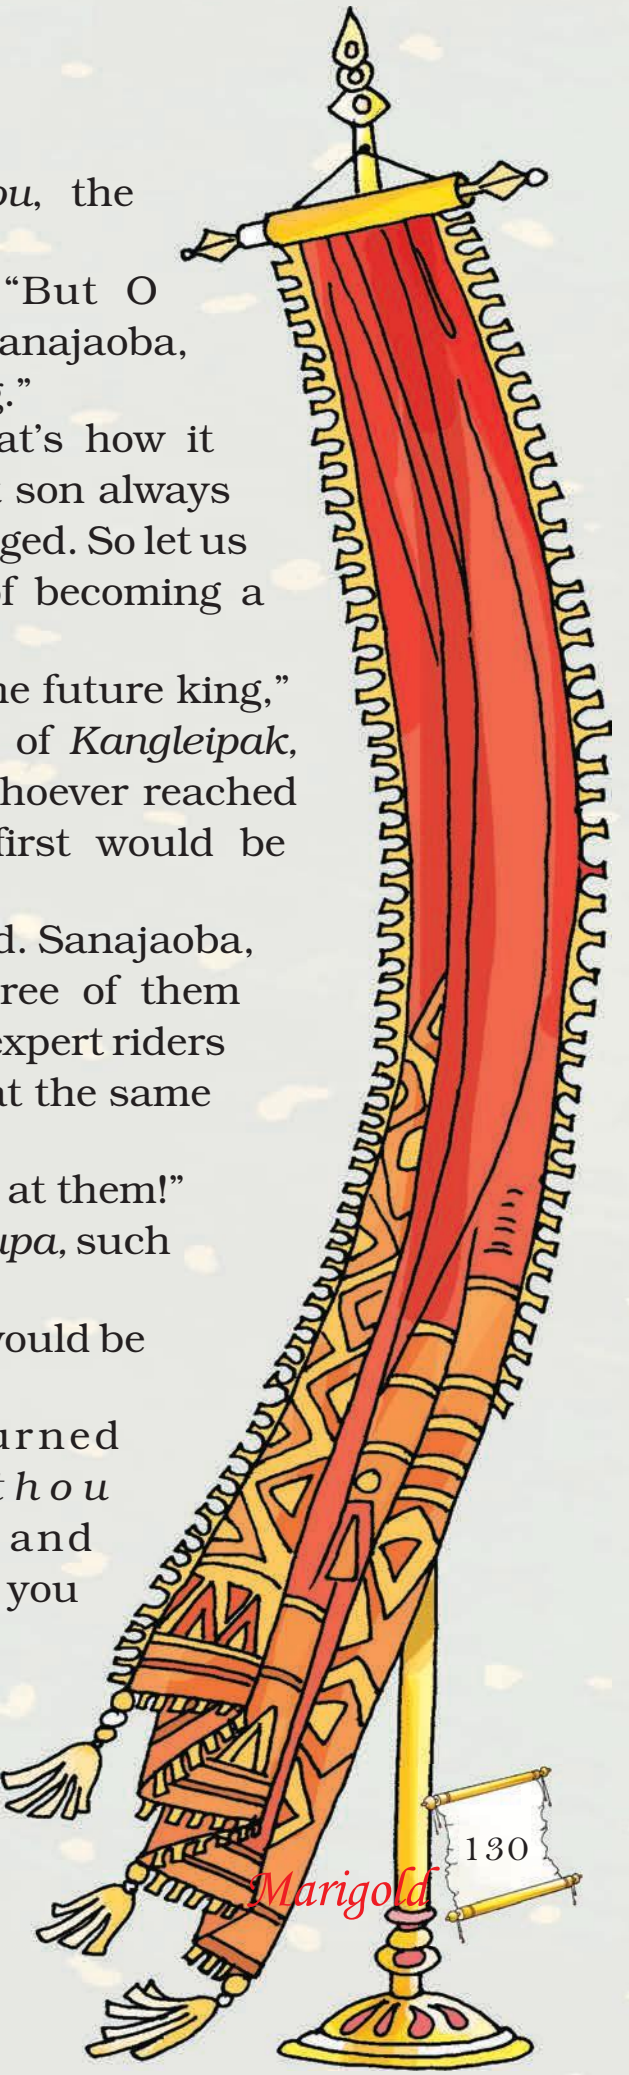

"We will have a contest to select the future king," the Leima said. And so, in the land of Kangleipak, there was a contest, a horse race. Whoever reached the khongnang, the banyan tree, first would be declared Tunggi Ningthou.

But then, a strange thing happened. Sanajaoba, Sanayaima and Sanatomba all three of them finished the race together. They were expert riders and all three reached the finish line at the same time!

There was great excitement. "Look at them!" the people shouted. "Shagol thauba nupa, such fine horsemen!"

But one question remained: Who would be the Tunggi Ningthou?

The Ningthou and Leima turned to their sons. The Ningthou said, "Sanajaoba, Sanayaima and Sanatomba, you have proved that you are fine horsemen. Do something different each one of you, so that we can decide who will be Tunggi Ningthou."

Suddenly, Sanajaoba mounted his horse and held his spear straight in front of him. He looked around. There was a hush among people. "What is Sanajaoba, the eldest, going to do? They thought to themselves.

Sanajaoba then looked at the huge khongnang standing majestically in the distance. He pierced the tree and jumped his horse right through it!

"Bravo! Bravo!" The people shouted. "Thouro! Thouro!" And then they fell silent.

Now it was the turn of the second son, Sanayaima. What would he do? Sanayaima too looked at the khongnang as he mounted his horse. Then he too rode towards the tree, harder and harder. The people watched in silence, afraid even to breathe. When he was really close, he urged his horse to jump. Higher and higher the horse rose until horse and rider jumped clear over the huge tree and landed on the other side in a wonderful motion.

The people breathed in relief and said in unison: "Phajei! Phajei! Wonderful! Wonderful!

And now, it was the turn of the youngest son, Sanatomba. He, too, rode his horse towards the khongnang and, before anybody knew what was happening, uprooted it. Triumphantly he carried the tree to the Ningthou and Leima and laid it at their feet!

Shouts of Thouro ! Thouro ! Phajei ! Phajei !" filled the mountains.

The people grew restless. Why were the Ningthou and the Leima taking so long to make the announcement?

They craned their necks to see what was happening.

The Ningthou and Leima were watching Sanatombi, their five year-old daughter. She looked sad and lonely. She stared at the khongnang which lay dead by the throne. Birds flapped worriedly around, searching for their homes in the tree. Sanatombi walked up to the khongnang and whispered, "The khongnang is dead. It was hurt by the spear and now it is dead."

The people were all attention. The Ningthou stood up. He looked at the three boys. He looked at the little girl. He turned to the people. "If anybody is worthy of becoming the ruler," he said, "it is little Sanatombi. It was she who told us to look at the soul of the khongnang. Sanatombi feels the pain of others. She feels the pain of the people, the animals, the birds, the trees."

"I declare Sanatombi the future Leima of Kangleipak," the Ningthou said. A silence fell. Everyone turned to look at the little girl, their future queen. There she stood, all of five, like a small khongnang, with birds flying all around her. They sat on her shoulders and on her head. She held out her hands full of grain and the birds flapped about her, pecking at the food.

"A Leima is one who doesn't hurt anybody in the kingdom."

Story: Who will be Ningthou?*

THEMES

Girl child – gender awareness
Multi-lingualism
Leadership qualities

READING TIME

The story in this unit is a folk tale from Manipur and has many words in Manipuri language. Children could be asked to read folk tales from other states of India and make note of any words in another language.

CONVERSATION TIME

The caring child and sensitivity to the environment is also highlighted in the story. They could be asked to find out and share with others which actions on our part harm the environment.

WRITING TIME

Students should be guided to write short paragraphs in a systematic way. The teacher can give some clues on how to put the points in order — starting with a brief introduction, a topic sentence followed by the points, and then a proper ending sentence. A variety of topics can be given for practice.
